Exploitation of Rhineland Forests For Timber, Wood Deliveries to Powers Asking Reparations Proposed

Chancellor Cuno Bares Details of Rejection by France of Germany's Non-War Pact: New Offer On Way

By WEBB MILLER.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, Jan. 1.—French experts on the eve of the conference of premiers here tomorrow, drafted plans for drastic German industrial seizures and supervision to compel reparations payments.

The tentative draft included:

- 1—Exploitation of the Rhineland forests to the extent of timber and wood deliveries demanded by the nations demanding reparations.
- 2—Installation of a coal committee in Germany to supervise deliveries.
- 3—Direct allied collection of customs in the Rhineland Ruhr.
- 4—Collection of a coal tax in the Rhineland and Ruhr for the benefit of the allies.
- 5—Allied collection of a German

Conferences preliminary to the premiers' meeting are expected to be held today following the arrival of Lord Curzon and Premier Bonar Law in Paris. Significance was attached to the conference in the Quai D'Orsay, presided over by Premier Poincare, similar to that of a week ago.

Head of Free State Declares
Anglo-Irish Treaty

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
DUBLIN, Jan. 1. — Conditions under which the Irish free state would make peace with the British government were set forth today by Michael Cosgrave, head of the Free State.

A meeting of former officers of the Tipperary brigade of the Irish Republican army held in Thurles Saturday adopted a resolution calling for a peace conference, and forwarded a copy to Cosgrave, who replied:

DUBLIN, Jan. 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Freeman's Journal today publishes a cablegram from Archbishop Cusack.

Baltimore, deploring Ramon Valera's "campaign of riotous destruction," and declaring America is sympathetic to the Irish Free State. The text of the message follows:

Americans with the exception of a few irregulars, are delighted with Ireland's forward step in establishing a Free State. There is no doubt of American good wishes for the success of the present government.

"The success of de Valera's campaign of riotous destruction is a sad spectacle to all of us."

1922 SETS NEW HIGH RECORDS IN EAST BAY ACTIVITY

Building Increases By Leaps and Bounds; Population Shows Big Growth.

Northern California is another north-while work. A favorable ruling by the Interstate Commerce Commission will mean a great increase in the tonnage moving over Oakland's docks; will mean the establishment of many jobbing houses on this side of the bay, and will make Oakland a center of distribution to a much greater degree than it is at the present time.

During the first eleven months of the year fifty-six new industries were brought to the city, which will result in an annual increase of $5,000,000 in the payroll of the city's wage earners.

The General Electric company has erected its first unit of its great industrial plant on East Fourteenth street. It covers 33,666 square feet. The Fisher Body company is constructing a factory on Foothill boulevard. This plant will have a floor space of 108,800 square feet.

Within a few days ground will be broken for a new factory at Ninety-eight avenue and East Fourteenth street. It will cover 75,000 square feet.

MAXWELL PARK CAR LINE ONE OF YEARS FEATURES

One of the achievements of the year was the building of a private street railway line by John Maxwell to the Maxwell Park tract. This was the first street-car line extension in Oakland for ten years and was entirely financed by private capital. The work is nearly finished now and the road will be opened early in the new year.

TRADE EXTENSION TRIPS

Three trade extension trips were undertaken by the chamber of commerce in the past year. One into the San Joaquin valley, a trip into the Sacramento valley and another into the Santa Clara valley.

The Health and Safety Exposition at the Municipal Auditorium was visited by more than 100,000 people.

The expansion Oakland showed itself in the establishment of a new branch library and the need for two new branches this year in the library department of the city. The Alameda branch, established in February, was the last branch to be opened and the first since 1918. Charles P. Greene, librarian, estimated that it cost $3500 a year to operate such branches as it is proposed to set up. The need for the branches is felt in the Lakeview district and Fitchburg and Havenscourt.

Home use of books averaged about $6,000 a month in 1922. The banner month was March, in which 101,009 books were out on home use. There was a steady demand for books in the last five months of 1922. During the fiscal year 1921-1922 there were 1,036,857. An acquisition of great worth in the library was the Snow Museum. Hundreds of mounted heads of animals and their skins were given to the city. New museum buildings for the Snow Museum have been erected.

Statistics kept by the library department developed the fact that people are willing to walk an average of ten to twelve blocks for their library books.

A development of the library has been the telephone reference bureau which is growing in general use as its usefulness becomes known. The library is cooperating for the furtherance of the Little Theater movement with its sponsors. This kind of work has a beneficial effect upon patronage of the art gallery, said Greene. A possible series of Sunday concerts is in prospect.

The year in police circles was marked by an increase of 4000 in arrests, due to the increased number of motorists who were hailed before the police judges for traffic violations. There was a total of 14,818 arrests.

BERKELEY BUILDING BREAKS ALL RECORDS

All records in building and other development were broken in Berkeley in the year just ended. As the best index of the city's progress Building Inspector Robert Greig has compiled a report for the past twelve months, which shows building operations in Berkeley to have doubled over those of the preceding year. Construction work totaling $5,610,028 has been started or completed in Berkeley since January 1, 1922. For the same period in 1921 the total was $3,371,405.

Of the money expended for building the greatest amount was invested in homes. Greig's report shows. Six hundred and eighty-three one-story residences were built during the year at a valuation of $2,248,225, and 187 two-story dwellings, costing $1,473,500. Six two and three-story houses were built, these including some 54 apartments, at a total expenditure of $202,300.

MANY PERMITS ISSUED FOR NEW BUILDING

The remainder of the building is segregated as follows in the number of permits granted:

One thousand, two hundred and forty-seven miscellaneous permits $19,535; business buildings, class B and C, $475,000; business frame buildings, $124,350; 5 schools, $341,000; and 1 church, $25,000. Greig's report shows June and July to be the banner building months of the year, while November and December set new records with permits granted for approximately $400,000 in buildings each month.

Berkeley's school program, completed with funds voted in the bond election several years ago, increased building activities to a considerable extent.

In line with the progress shown by Greig's report, officials of the Berkeley office of the East Bay Water Company declared that 1922 broke all records for water service installation. Where in 1921 820 new water meters were installed, a total of 1253 new meters were placed throughout the city during 1922. Building activity in parts of the city from the waterfront to the hills is shown in the water company reports of its work for the past year. To accommodate its increased patronage the Berkeley office of the water company was forced to move to larger new quarters during the year.

ALAMEDA CITY AFFAIRS

Approximately $541,173 was spent in the operation of all departments in the city of Alameda during the fiscal year 1921-1922, according to the annual report of C. B. Hickok, city manager, whose annual report was accepted by the city council at its last meeting.

Hickok prefaced his report by saying that the city manager form of government since its adoption in April 1916, had proved a marked success with resulting better coordination of departmental activities; morale of city employees was of a higher order; and public funds were expended more efficiently.

The principal activities of the city engineer during the past year were the completion of the sewer extension project at 711 and 713 streets. The sewer extension project, which was completed at a cost of $10,000, was the largest project of the city west of the bay. It was completed at a cost of $10,000 less than the estimate.

Franklin Park, 175 acres, was purchased by the city at a cost of $21,000. It is situated in the center of the city at Moron street and San Jose avenue and is to be a playground for children. A large amount of the city's money was expended for the city's public works.

building in the city. According to a report from W. J. Rowley, building inspector. For new dwellings $616,872 was spent. There was a decided increase in building over the year. According to the report, the highest month of the building boom, 43 permits being issued, which amounted to $44,310. February was another big month for building when $62,077 was expended and 21 permits issued. In January the construction amounted to $53,840.

S. F. Building and Clearings Show Gain

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—An unprecedented era of construction and bank clearings into the billions are shown by an annual business review issued by the Chamber of Commerce.

The second largest year in bank clearings was made with the figure of $7,274,000,000 was the report of W. S. Ingram of the department of research and information. This is an increase of $645,000,000 over those of 1921. Financial observers regard the figures of 1922 as the true barometer of the prosperity of the year.

The previous high mark of last year was doubled by that of 1922.

Wholesale trade figures for various commodities ranged in increases from 1 to 14 per cent. Outside of San Francisco the greatest increase is shown by the hardware trade, which registered an increase of 14 per cent. Furniture dealers reported an increase of 7 1/2 per cent. In the city the trade in agricultural implements registered the largest gain, 16 per cent. Grocery figures were second with 12 per cent.

Police Activities Told by Records

Figures compiled by Inspector Frank Rossick showed the investigations of lost or stolen automobiles numbered 3321; 1394 auto accidents, 500 accidents of other kinds, 553 assaults, 55 suicides and attempted suicides. There was a decrease in hospital cases handled by

President Passes Quiet New Year's

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—It was a quiet New Year's day for the President and Mrs. Harding.

The White House doorkeepers were kept busy receiving cards of diplomats and officials and many boxes of flowers were received from friends who recollected Mrs. Harding's convalescence.

The chief social event of the day, however, was the diplomatic breakfast given by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Hughes at the Pan-American Union. In accordance with custom this was a state affair, the diplomatic guests appearing in their brilliant uniforms.

FOREIGNERS ON IMMIGRATION NOTES ASKED IN SUIT

New Step in Reorganization of S. L. Oakland Company Taken by Trust Co.

As part of the reorganization of the San Francisco and Oakland Terminal Building, the Trust Company of California has filed a suit in the superior court to have the building sold to the United States government for court. The suit is filed in the name of the Trust Company of California, as trustee of the S. L. Oakland Company, against the United States government. The suit is for the purpose of having the building sold to the government for court. The building is located at the corner of Broadway and Broadway, and is a large building which has been used for many years as a terminal building. The building is now in a state of disrepair and is a liability to the community. The Trust Company of California is asking the court to order the building sold to the government for court. The court has granted the suit and has ordered the building sold to the government for court.

TAILORS TO HAVE FASHION EXHIBIT

A style show for men, demonstrating the 1923 fashions for masculine attire and offering an exhibition of 200 garments, will be one of the features of the fourth annual convention of the Pacific Coast Merchant Tailors' association to be held in Oakland starting Tuesday, January 9. The show will represent the fashion ideas of tailors from all sections of the Pacific coast and as far north as British Columbia. It will be one of the first affairs of its kind ever attempted and will be thrown open to the public.

"There is no reason why women should monopolize the fashion show idea," explained Louis Scheeline, general chairman of the convention. "Men may not require as many clothes as a woman, but what they do require should be stylish and fashionable. The climatic conditions along the Pacific coast are such as to call for special clothing weights and certain weights adapt themselves to certain styles better than others. More than garments will be on exhibition. Those who have complained that there is little change in men's clothing from year to year will find the show a revelation."

Scheeline expects the advance guard of the delegates to arrive tomorrow. The Oakland committee is exercising every effort to have the delegates come early and stay long in order that it may have an opportunity of demonstrating to them the advantages of the East-bay district. The delegates will come from California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Utah, Montana, and Vancouver, B. C.

Oakland Health Conditions Improve

Health conditions in Oakland were generally improved during 1922 over the records of previous years, according to Health Officer Harry Foster, who today submitted to Commissioner Frank Colbourn the following general summary at the end of the year:

"Except for diphtheria, the major communicable diseases have been reduced during the past year, there having been 74 cases of small pox and 21 of typhoid, as against 262 and 51 of these diseases respectively in 1921.

"The diphtheria rate for Oakland increased somewhat in 1922, as it did for the State as a whole, due to an epidemic commencing in October of 1921 and continuing into 1922.

"There were, however, only 75 cases in November, 1922, as against 128 in November of 1921. The reduction in the number of cases is and fashionable. The climatic conditions along the Pacific coast are such as to call for special clothing weights and certain weights adapt themselves to certain styles better than others. More than garments will be on exhibition. Those who have complained that there is little change in men's clothing from year to year will find the show a revelation."

Scheeline expects the advance guard of the delegates to arrive tomorrow. The Oakland committee is exercising every effort to have the delegates come early and stay long in order that it may have an opportunity of demonstrating to them the advantages of the East-bay district. The delegates will come from California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Utah, Montana, and Vancouver, B. C.

Marriages and Divorces Show 1922 Decrease

THOSE who may think that Cupid has nodded because the records of marriage licenses show that fewer were issued in Alameda county this year than last, can find consolation in the fact that fewer divorces were granted. Records in the marriage license bureau of the county clerk's office show that only 3793 couples during the past year secured licenses. In 1921 there were 4138.

The records of the county clerk show that 1049 interlocutory decrees of divorce were granted by Alameda county superior judges during 1922 while 1069 were granted in 1921. The comparative records also hold good as to final decrees, 876 being granted the past year as compared with 992 during 1921. Annulments also show a greater number for 1921 with 56 and only 34 for 1922.

The only figures that spoil this good record for the past year is that 1481 suits for divorce were filed, an increase of 78 over the year before when 1403 divorce suits were instituted.

duction in December was greater. This has probably been due largely to seeking out the contacts of all cases and determining who were the carriers. This has put a great strain upon the laboratory, which has made 35 per cent more examinations in 1922 than in 1921. The approximate number of examinations was just five times the number in 1913.

"Much unnecessary quarantine and isolation, with resulting economic saving to the community, has been effected by performing in the city laboratory certain tests formerly done by the State.

"At the request of the health department, an ordinance requiring rat-proofing of new buildings in certain cases has been passed. From a standpoint of health protection, and economic also, this is of major importance for a seaport city. The passage of this ordinance in Oakland is a thing for which the Federal and State government have been striving for years."

Capital Celebrates With Few Arrests

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 1.—Only four arrests were made here last night and early this morning, although the city staged the biggest New Year celebration in its history and which thousands took part. Police say this small number of arrests is unusual.

THREE ARE INJURED WHEN AUTO UPSETS

VALLEJO, Jan. 1.—Three San Franciscans were injured when the car driven by Dr. Fred H. Hare and containing his wife and eleven months old babe and his wife's mother, Mrs. A. T. Powell, of Nevada City, skidded on the highway near here late yesterday, overturning.

Dr. B. J. Klotz of Vallejo, came along shortly after the accident and took the four injured to the Emergency hospital. The report was given out this morning that none of the party were seriously hurt.

L. A. CROWDS PASS DAY AT RESORTS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 1.—After a New Year's Eve said to be perhaps the noisiest in the city's history, but featured by what dry officials termed "remarkably few arrests" for violation of national and state prohibition laws, New Year's day found Los Angeles comparatively deserted.

Several hundred partygoers went visiting their little sisters; Pasadena, where the annual Tournament of Roses was in progress Long Beach, where the Pike and Silver Spray Pier amusement thoroughfares offered varied diversions; Venice, where the coming of 1923 was celebrated Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and various other suburbs which afforded entertainment of various kinds, from sea bathing to snow bathing.

Plumbing Inspector Tells of Activity

An increase of 40 per cent over last year's business, the greatest ever experienced by the city plumbing inspection department, is noted in a report tendered by this department to Commissioner Frank Colbourn today. The report is complete except for December. The Plumbers' Examining Board passed 34 candidates for the rank of master plumber, as against 21 in 1921. There were 156 licenses issued to master plumbers in 1922, as against 127 in 1921. Permits issued in 1922, compared as follows: Plumbing permits, 3869, 2345; fixtures, 24,625, 14,773; side sewer permits confirmed, 3144, 1301; plumbing and sewer inspections, 11,034, 7942.

White Way Raids Dry Up New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—An extremely dry New Year's day—under foot—followed the driest (from the Volstead standpoint) New Year's eve that New York ever had. It was also turbulent.

Two hundred federal prohibition enforcement agents and several times that number of policemen and plain clothes men caused New Year's to be ushered in with lots of liquid cheer inside than ever before.

This was accomplished by a series of raids in the "White Way" district that brought many minor battles between enforcers and determined breakers of the dry law, and at least one "knockdown and drag out" affair that animated the evening at the thrice-raided Monte Carlo.

Greenwich Village and outlying sections profited by the concentrated drive on Broadway, however, and runs from those centers were that liquor flowed freely—in everything but price. The city set a record, too, in the number of home celebrations. In one magnificent Park avenue residence the better got so hilarious the family had to have him carried off to jail. Celebrators with firearms rolled up a casualty list of two fatal wounded and several others injured. Apparently convinced they were burning up gave the fire department unnecessary runs in the hour that straddled the old and the new years.

BERKELEY FOLKS ASKED TO FAVOR

A SPECIAL TAX A SPECIAL TAX

Appeal for the Purchase of Land in Front of City Hall Is Issued.

BERKELEY, Jan. 1.—An appeal to Berkeley residents to support the proposal calling for a special tax for three years to raise funds for the acquisition of the land fronting the city hall as a civic center and the erection of an auditorium as a memorial to fallen heroes of the World War, was issued today by James K. Fisk, retiring commander of Berkeley Post No. 7, American Legion.

Fisk, who is assistant recorder of the University of California, was asked to present the affirmative side of the tax issue in the "arguments" for and against the various proposals to be voted upon January 20, which will be mailed to the voters.

Following are the reasons given by Fisk why the special tax proposal, No. 3 on the ballot, should carry:

"This provides a procedure whereby a tax for a definite, permanent, civic improvement may be levied for three years only, when approved by a majority vote of the people. The tax limit under our charter may now be increased indefinitely by a mere majority vote.

away with the necessity of increasing the tax limit by allowing the people to decide upon definite improvements by a majority vote. The present provision requiring a two-thirds vote for these improvements (which is an anachronism and out of line with the policy elsewhere expressed in the charter) will force the raising of the tax limit before long, as the city cannot get along indefinitely without permanent improvements. This is not a bond issue and does not create any increased tax.

"This amendment, sponsored by the American Legion, is thus clearly seen to be for the best interests of the city and for the protection of the taxpayers.

"The American Legion is for it largely because it allows patriotic organizations to go before the people and ask, at a subsequent election, for money for a civic center and war memorial; but before these can be gotten, the people must vote favorably at a later election. Other cities and counties, where taxes can be and are higher than ours, have made provision out of their tax levy for war memorials, and these are a source of great civic pride because of their utility and beauty. It is noticeable that in these counties civic interest has been quickened because of an adequate common meeting place and the strong spirit of service fostered.

"There need be no fear of abuses, through this provision. The council can be counted on to refuse to place upon the ballot projects without real merit as they do not like to be turned down by the people and the voters have the final say, anyway. The American Legion feels that the people should be given a chance to pass on the question of a war memorial by majority vote."

Shower Given For Yolo Bride-to-Be
WOODLAND, Jan. 1.—Miss Elizabeth Turney, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Leander Turner, of this city, was given the Turney home Saturday in honor of Miss Stella Burger, whose betrothal to Raymond B. Below of Irvington was recently announced here. It was an "as you like it" shower, in which many gifts were bestowed.

Miss Burger is a resident of Duane, but has been in Woodland for the past four years attending the Woodland high school.

SAN JOSE BAKER COMMITTEE CHIEF BY 100-FT. DIVE

Dairy Employees See Leap From High Bridge By Victim of Despondency.

SAN JOSE, Jan. 1.—S. P. Cameron, local pastry man, committed suicide shortly before noon yesterday in a spectacular high dive from the guard rail of the bridge over the Coyote river at Seventeenth and Santa Clara streets. Cameron struck the creek bank, nearly 100 feet below, his skull being fractured and nearly every bone in the aged man's body being broken by the force of his long fall.

Several employees of a nearby dairy concern saw Cameron preparing for his fatal dive, but thought he was simply taking a rest as he leaned against the railing of the bridge. Suddenly Cameron threw off his coat, climbed to the top of the rail, paused a moment and then deliberately dived head foremost from the railing. The dairy employees rushed to the bridge to see Cameron's crushed body imbedded in the mud of the creek bank nearly 100 feet below the floor of the bridge.

Chief of Police J. N. Black and a posse of patrolmen recovered the body, notifying Coroner Amos O. Williams of the suicide. The coroner announced after examining Cameron's body that death was probably instantaneous.

Cameron had lived in this city for years and was known as the "pie man" of East San Jose, making pies and selling them from a little hand cart which he pushed through the streets of the city. The suicide was about 75 years of age. Illness and despondency are believed to have been responsible for Cameron's act.

Reclamation District Bonds Sell in Sutter

GRIDLEY, Jan. 1.—The sale of bonds of Reclamation District No. 2054 was made at the office of the Sutter county treasurer last week under the direction of the trustees of the district and the bonds were sold to the Bank of Italy at par and a premium of $2018. There were two other bidders, Schwabacher and Company, par and a premium of $2062.22; the Ajax Dredging company, at par. The total amount of the bonds sold was $239,032.34, which is to defray the expenses of the extensive drainage works in the district which lies in Sutter and Butte counties, the system having as its outlet the Wadsworth intercepting canal which empties into the by-pass south of Sutter City.

San Jose Folk Witness Advent Of New Year

SAN JOSE, Jan. 1.—Practically all of San Jose society last night saw the old year out and the new year in at the big dinner-dance given at the Vendome hotel under the personal supervision of Frew W. Tegeler, manager of the hotel. Scores of private dinner parties were held in the private dining rooms of the hotel in addition to the big community celebration which hundreds of local society folk attended. The spacious dining room of the hotel, the dancing pavilions and the handsome Gray room were the scenes of much merriment as the New Year's revelers danced and enjoyed the special course New Year's dinner.

Forty guests gathered at Sunset Terrace, the home of Mrs. Lester Pierce and Mrs. Cedric Rae Richmond, on Friday evening to bid farewell to Miss Lyetta Hayes, who left Saturday with her father, J. O. Hayes, for the Orient. The already attractive rooms of the Richmond home were made gay with many flowers. Mrs. H. P. Kestor and Mrs. Joseph Haskins poured tea for the guests. Miss Florence Gardner and Mrs. Bradley Clayton assisted in the serving. The farewell reception was entirely informal.

Mrs. Charles Craig will return to San Jose shortly after several months in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Richmond and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Chase will sail from San Francisco Wednesday for a visit in Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Garritt Arnold have returned to their home in Los Angeles after a delightful visit with Arnold's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Arnold, of 49 North Fifteenth street.

Mrs. W. H. Coffin entertained at a New Year's dinner-dance party at the Hotel Vendome last evening. About twenty friends were bidden to the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Beach have announced the marriage of their daughter, Roma, to William W. Carter of Olua, Hawaii at Paia, Maui, T. H., on December 16.

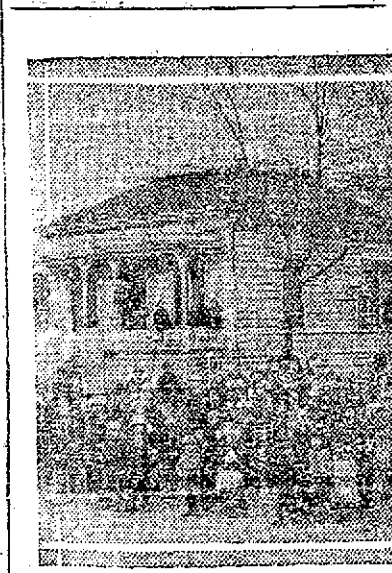

Vallejo's Sudden Death Investigated

VALLEJO, Jan. 1.—Investigation is being conducted here today by authorities to determine whether the death yesterday of Andy Svedrian, 431 Pennsylvania street, here was due to liquor. Thomas Lazoway, his partner in a baking establishment, who is critically ill as the result of the same poison, says he cannot remember the two men drinking anything during lunch or after yesterday noon, according to reports to the hospital where Dr. Reams Leachman took him.

OROVILLE FACES COMPREHENSIVE YEAR'S PROGRAM

Irrigation, Road and Home Building, Diamond Field Development Listed.

OROVILLE, Jan. 1.—Four projects will play an important part in the development of Oroville and the Oroville community during the coming year. Perhaps the most important of these will be irrigation. Next, perhaps, should be listed the beginning of construction work on the State Feather River highway, known as the "North Fork Route," through Oroville, linking the state with the east. Another project that is expected to play a large part in the building up of the community is the development of the diamond mines, which will be started January 15, and the fourth proposition is the house building industry.

Four irrigation districts, comprising total acreage of near 100,000 acres of fertile land, adapted to the production of every known fruit and grain, will be opened for settlement within the year. All this enormous acreage radiates in all directions from Oroville. Most of it is served by good roads and paved highways. The districts begin at the back yards of Oroville city homes.

About 10,000 acres of this land is divided between the Thermaito irrigation district and the Table Mountain irrigation district, both of which are already supporting some of the finest orange and olive groves in the community. Another 10,000 will be held jointly for the two districts immediately after the first of the year and actual construction work on the irrigation systems will commence as soon as the winter rains are over.

Bonds in the amount of $2,000,000 have already been voted for the Or. Alle-Vandente Irrigation district and actual construction work on the system now only awaits the opening of spring. This district now embraces approximately 35,000 acres, with an ultimate development of 75,000 acres. Two water systems have already been purchased by this district, the old South Feather Land and Water Company and the Palermo Land and Water Company, with the approval of the state engineer and the bonding commission.

These three districts have been approved by all state legal authorities and have been voted unanimously by the landowners within their confines and they are now all ready and waiting to start work with the first spring sunshine. A reservoir at Palermo to provide water for 15,000 acres; another on Lost Creek, with a masonry dam 112 feet high; a third at Centerville, with a dam 100 feet high, and miles upon miles of ditches and pipe lines, will actually be undertaken as soon as the winter is over. At least three other reservoirs are among the plans of the three districts.

The fourth irrigation district in the community is the Honcut-Yuba, embracing approximately 25,000 acres, and while no bonds have as yet been voted in the district and no plans have been made, they have met with the approval of the state engineer, yet the people of the district are working strenuously for water, and there is every indication that plans will be approved, election held and actual work started before the year is over. Representatives of the state engineer's office have recently gone over the district and held conferences with the board of directors.

Whether the construction work on the North Fork highway or the development of the diamond mines will mean the most to Oroville is hard to say, but both will be started at an early date. Actual operation of the Oroville diamond mines will start on January 15, when the Precious Stones Company of New York begins its work here. This company has purchased approximately 100 acres of diamond bearing land adjacent to Oroville.

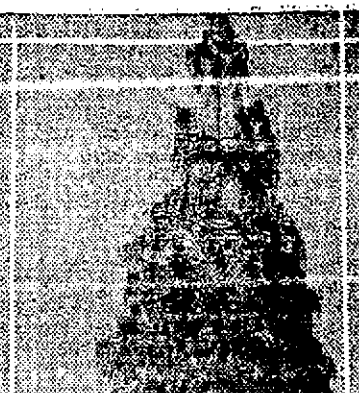

Stamp Burning Class Held in Santa Cruz

SANTA CRUZ, Jan. 1.—A stamp burning demonstration was made last week at the Buchanan ranch at the end of the Empire ranch road on Ben Lomond mountain, under the auspices of the county farm bureau.

It was conducted by the engineering department of the agricultural engineering division of the University of California by Professor E. J. Steinman and Professor Barbee of that department. The experiment was a success, and they demonstrated that this method is twice as fast as any other.

BONDED DEBT INCREASED
MARTINEZ, Jan. 1.—The Western States Gas and Electric company, which operates in Richmond and the San Joaquin valley, today filed with County Clerk J. H. Wells notice of an increase of its bonded indebtedness from $118,500,000 to $125,500,000.

Committee Will Tour Highways in State

MARTINEZ, Jan. 1.—With a special committee of the Committee of Fifty organized to map out a highway policy to present to the legislature in January, County Surveyor R. R. Arnold will leave San Francisco Tuesday on an 1800 mile trip that will afford inspection of all types of highways in California. The special inspection committee was appointed recently at a meeting in Fresno.

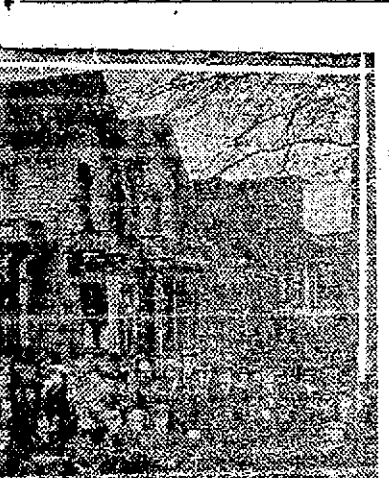

The committee will proceed south from San Francisco along the coast route to Los Angeles stopping at San Luis Obispo. From Los Angeles the committee's itinerary will take it to El Centro, Fresno, Modesto, Chico, Redding and return to San Francisco. An average of more than 200 miles a day will be made.

The total wooded area of Texas is said to be 60,000 square miles.

FIGHT AT COURT DEVELOPS OVER ANTIOCH ESTATE

Uncle Sues to Keep Nephew
From Withdrawing Funds From Bank.

MARTINEZ, Jan. 1.—Claiming that John Nicholls Jr. of Antioch, cut off without a cent in his father's will, filed for probate yesterday, has threatened to withdraw estate funds from the Bank of Antioch. Thomas Nicholls, a brother of the deceased, today applied and secured from Superior Judge A. B. McKendle a restraining order preventing Nicholls from making withdrawals and prohibiting the Bank of Antioch from making any payments from the account.

Suit asking for the restraining order was filed late last evening by Thomas Nicholls. Earlier in the day he filed a petition asking probate of the estate. In his suit Thomas Nicholls claims that his brother, John, on October 6, three weeks before his death, executed a will making him the sole devisee and extending to him $2000 in California. The special inspection committee was appointed recently at a meeting in Fresno.

Schools in Martinez Will Resume Courses

MARTINEZ, Jan. 1.—High school and grammar school students will resume their studies Wednesday after the usual holiday vacation.

ANTIOCH SHIPPING CELESTY AT RATE OF 20 CARS DAILY

Crop Expected to Set New Record, and Will Soon Be Moving at Peak.

ANTIOCH, Jan. 1.—The records of the Delta are due to be broken from all indications of the produce being shipped this year. The celery crop, which will be moving at peak this month, will be greater than in previous years. An average of over twenty cars have been shipped per day for the past six weeks, the present shipments totalling about 800 cars for the season.

Last week in one day 49 cars of produce were shipped from the Santa Fe warehouse, and last Friday evening 35 cars of celery were started for the market. In the 49-car shipment there were a few cars of potatoes and the balance celery. The total celery crop is expected to run around 1400 cars, slightly over half being shipped already.

The 1922-23 celery is the best in the last four years, and the market takes all that can be shipped. The season will continue until about the middle of February.

The lettuce crop, which is an experiment on Bouldin Island, is holding up to expectations. About 24 cars have been shipped so far, and the quality holds good. It is being handled by Dunbar & Hansen of San Francisco.

The asparagus crop is looking well and expectations are that the 1923 harvest will see 100,000 boxes shipped to the east. New acreages are coming in this year, and considerable new ground has been put in asparagus in the last year. It is estimated that nearly 5000 acres were added to this produce in the past year. At Union Island 1600 acres have been planted, and on Grand Island 2000 acres have been added. In other places smaller tracts have been put in grass and the total will make near the 5000 mark. Cauliflower will be a Delta product before long, as experiments are being made now and the possibilities look promising.

Thursday evening the first unit of 15 electrolights were lighted for the first time, marking a step in the forward strides of Antioch to a city of importance, which it is destined to become as the years roll by. While it was not expected that the system could be put in operation so soon, the attempt was made Thursday evening. The amount of current which could be delivered to the new lights was not sufficient and they showed up rather weak and yellow, but Friday evening and since then nice white lights have been rendered by the Pacific Gas

DEPUTIES NAB YOUTH OF 12 FOR BATTERY

SAN JOSE, Jan. 1.—Two large deputy sheriffs found their "man" to be one very small boy when they set out to serve a warrant for arrest for battery Saturday afternoon. The deputies were Floyd Hopple and Earl Hamilton, of Sheriff George W. Lyle's office. The lad they took prisoner on the warrant was Louis Bethelo, 12, who had been charged with battery by Mrs. A. Bethelo, 22 Alameda avenue, who claimed that the Bethelo boy had struck her children and other children of the neighborhood with rocks. The officers hesitated about arresting such a small boy on a battery charge, but having a warrant for him they took him into custody. The whole affair will be crushed out in juvenile court Thursday. In the meantime the Bethelo lad has been released to the custody of his parents and a petition has been filed requesting that the boy be made a ward of the juvenile court.

Walnut Creek May Want Arrested Men

MARTINEZ, Jan. 1.—Believing that two men arrested in Petaluma and held in the Sonoma county jail at Santa Rosa on charges of being the same men that passed fictitious checks on the Walnut Creek garage and Acres and Silver of Walnut Creek on December 15, Deputy Sheriff Dike Joslin today notified Sonoma authorities to hold the men until local officers have had an opportunity to interview them.

The men arrested at Santa Rosa gave the names of Stanley Stevens and A. C. Allen, and declared they resided at Antioch. They are alleged to have passed spurious checks in the Bank of Antioch. The men sought here gave the names of George Raymond and Henry Browning in passing spurious checks at Walnut Creek. At both Walnut Creek establishments small purchases were made and checks on the Bank of Antioch tendered in payment. According to Joslin the men he seeks are also wanted in Fairfield, Napa, Stockton, Los Angeles and other places.

Holiday Reunion Held in Dos Palos

DOS PALOS, Jan. 1.—The George Davis home was the scene of a lively reunion on Christmas, the first time in twenty years that all the children have met beneath the paternal roof. Some came from Nebraska. Davis, a pioneer rancher, 83 years old, electrified the gathering of four generations by dancing a lively hornpipe. He declared another reunion would be held twelve years hence to mark his one hundred birthday.

and Electric company, by adding a couple of booster transformers to the circuit.

PROGRESS URGED ON SAN JOSE AS SLOGAN IN 1923

City Manager and Leader in Chamber of Commerce
Give Greetings.

SAN JOSE, Jan. 1.—Progress during 1923 will be the slogan of the San Jose Chamber of Commerce, according to a message being broadcast by Dr. W. C. Bailey, manager of the chamber, here on New Year's Day.

Dr. Bailey's message is as follows: "Think progress, talk progress, help us progress in 1923. With the coming of the blossom season the chamber urges stores and homes of the city to decorate appropriately; the chamber urges the citizens to plant flowers, tear down unsightly fences and in general clean up the city so that season may bring the widest amount of advertising to the community and leave a lasting impression on visitors."

"For a big Independence Day celebration, help in the county fair arrangements, foster community spirit. Send the chamber names of newcomers to the community, and in short do everything possible to aid in the chamber of commerce plans for progress during 1923."

City Manager Clarence Goodwin issued the following New Year's statement today: "Greetings to this city for 1923 should be in the nature of a thanksgiving on the part of all of us for the blessings which have been showered upon us during the past and will certainly continue in increasing measure in the future. San Jose faces 1923 with the certainty that it will be the greatest and most prosperous year in her history. Indications are for a phenomenal yet healthy increase for the Garden City during this year."

Federal Officers to Try Man Before S. J.

SAN JOSE, Jan. 1.—Due to the priority of several federal charges, Chief of Police J. N. Black of San Jose will be unable to return John Judesites, wanted here for a series of burglaries from Redwood City where he was apprehended several days ago. Several attempts have been made by Chief Black to have the prisoner brought to San Jose for trial, but the chief has been informed in each instance that a number of federal charges against Judesites must be disposed of first. The prisoner will be taken to San Francisco for trial on the federal charges early this week.

NEW YEAR DAWNS ON BRIGHT HOPES AT PLEASANTON

Improvement Recorded During 1922 in Conditions of Community.

PLEASANTON, Jan. 1.—With the dawn of a new year this city hopes to see more and more fulfilled her desires for a prosperous community. Conditions locally have been improved considerably during the last year, business prosperity, civic conditions, building and otherwise all coming forward with a rapidity that has done much for Pleasanton and its environs. It is hoped that the work will go ahead as steadily and that this city will grow, improve and become a greater business center in 1923.

The Pleasanton Post of the American Legion is planning to send a delegation of members to the reception to be given the National Commander in Oakland on Tuesday evening at the Sherburne Temple. The distinguished guest will address the gathering and all the friends of the Legion will be welcome. Those going down from this city will be accompanied by friends who are interested in the work of the organization.

Two very interesting visitors have lately been at the Pleasanton training track looking things over there. Rodney G. MacKenzie has been here from Canada to see "Brien," his manager, and to ascertain how things are going at his track. While here MacKenzie had a short visit with local friends. More lately, Charles De Ryder, who managed the MacKenzie interest for a while and who drove some of the racing stock on the grand circuit, was around for a few days' stay. De Ryder is now in the stock business in Arizona, but interests in this state call him here occasionally and he always comes to Pleasanton to see what is going on. He made his home here for over ten years. He was accompanied by Mrs. De Ryder and during the last few days they have been visiting relatives near Walnut Creek.

This section is interested in the announcement last week by the supervisors of San Francisco concerning their decision to purchase the property owned by the Thermal Fruit Company, near here, for a pre-emptory or home for undernourished children of that city and county. The supervisors have had the project up for consideration for a long time and with an option taken on it sometime ago it looks certain that within a short time work will be started on the new site.

The proposed home will be situated in an ideal location, one void of frost and fog and always enjoying a mild climate. Scenic conditions lend admirably to the project as it commands an excellent view of the Amador and Sunol valleys, together with Mount Diablo and Mission Peak. The project has been endorsed by many leading physicians of San Francisco, together with social welfare workers and others who have made a survey of the property investigating climate, water supply and general desirability of the location for the purposes intended.

Tomorrow the board of supervisors will hear the petition of a number of the residents of the main school district to have the boundary lines of that school district so straightened to conform to the boundary lines between the Pleasanton and Murray townships.

Suit Transferred on Change of Venue

MARTINEZ, Jan. 1.—On a change of venue order from Alameda county suit instituted by Bernard Johnson against Henry Tranter was filed in local superior court today. According to the complaint Johnson on May 25, 1917, obtained judgment in the United States District Court, Southern Division, against Tranter for $1,000 and $362 costs of suit. He asks that judgment for that amount be rendered in Superior Court here claiming the United States court judgment has not been satisfied.

Oil-Bearing Shale Found at Plymouth

PLYMOUTH, Jan. 1.—Possibilities of oil in this district are reflected in the discovery of oil-bearing shale on the ranch of Jacob Vanderpool in digging a well. The rock appears to be a true shale of this nature, Vanderpool says. He will endeavor to interest experts to visit his ranch and pass judgment on the discovery, according to his plans. It has often been declared by old miners that in the depths of the Fremont mine workings small pockets of crude oil have been found occasionally.

Manteca Man Fined On Liquor Charge

MANTECA, Jan. 1.—When Joe Avila, accused of selling and having intoxicating liquor in his possession, failed to appear at his case was called by Judge Douglas, the latter ordered Avila's cash bail of $300 forfeited. Avila has been conducting a rooming house here. In a raid the officers found a quantity of liquor in his room, they took the court.

SUSPECT KEEPS HIS WORD AND GIVES SELF UP

WOODLAND, Jan. 1.—Constable Roy Hillhouse of this city, and Sheriff New Power, of Glenn county, agree that in C. C. Caldwell, of Willows, they have found what Douglas failed to locate: An Honest Man. Hillhouse was given a warrant several days ago to arrest Caldwell, should he be found here, on a charge of threatening his wife. As soon as Caldwell discovered that Hillhouse had a warrant for his arrest he visited the sheriff's office and agreed to make Willows in his machine in a given time and surrender. Hillhouse was forced to take the chance because all officers here and in Glenn county were busy. True to his word Caldwell surrendered Saturday night within a quarter of an hour from the time limit allowed to make the trip between Woodland and Willows. Judge Parham, of Willows, released Caldwell on his own recognizance and fixed the date of his trial for January 5.

SANTA CLARA NEWS

SANTA CLARA, Jan. 1.—Clarence McWilliams, cashier of the Standard Oil Company at Seattle, Wash., a former resident of Santa Clara, left here yesterday for Seattle after spending the holidays with his brother-in-law and sister, Judge Charles A. Thompson and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce have gone to Coalinga, Cal., to attend the funeral of Al Evers, who was accidentally killed while out hunting a few days ago. The deceased is a brother of Mrs. Violet Pierce of Santa Clara, and at one time was a resident here.

The hook and ladder company of the Santa Clara Volunteer Fire Department held its annual banquet on New Year's eve in the hook and ladder house on Liberty street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vargas have as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. White of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Vargas with their guests formed a party last evening in San Francisco, where they welcomed the New Year at a downtown cafe.

Father E. J. Ryan, S. J., left Saturday to attend the funeral services of the late Mrs. Temple, who passed suddenly away in Los Angeles at her home on Thursday evening. Mrs. Temple was the mother of Tommy Temple, a graduate of the University of Santa Clara last year, who played on the football team during his college days.

Irill V. Crove has this week opened an automobile repair shop in the building formerly occupied as a warehouse by the Stewart wood yard on Main street. Crove was formerly in business in Santa Clara, and will cater to all kinds of automobile repair work, although specializing on rebuilt cars.

Large Oakdale Tract Development to Start

OAKDALE, Jan. 1.—Announcement made that the plan for the 1000-acre Griffith tract near here will be developed, now that water can be brought to it. The water problem has been the only drawback to the plan of this large acreage to trees and vines. Threatened litigation with adjacent property owners over canal right-of-way has finally been amicably settled, and the work of constructing a large irrigation ditch through the tract and a thorough distributing system of ditches will begin at once.

Angels Camp Girls Tell of Engagements

ANGELS CAMP, Jan. 1.—Four engagements of popular girls of this section have just been told. Miss Ardis Raggio announces her betrothal to Frank Feirano. Miss Doris Little is to wed Wilbur Fall. Miss Hazel Airola tells of her engagement to James Revellino, and Miss Della Girardi is to become the bride of Joseph Pease. The couples to be are all young business men of this part of the county, except Pease, who is in business in Sonoma, Tuolumne county.

News Notes of Vallejo And U. S. Navy Yard

VALLEJO, Jan. 1.—Eight members of Vallejo Post, No. 104, American Legion, will attend the reception and banquet to be given Tuesday at the Hotel Oakland in honor of National Commander Alvin Owensley. The delegation, composed of N. G. Welburn, who will deliver the address, E. D. Nichols, Dr. John Green, Frank Shaw, Frank Bennett, D. Spiegel, Ben Coker, and Dr. L. C. Wells, will carry with them a large banner with the inscription, "Vallejo, the City of Opportunities."

The U. S. S. Arclet will come to anchor and be overhauled. The ship will undergo extensive repairs.

The yard officers are preparing to advertise for the sale of the old shears that have outlived their usefulness at the station.

Lieutenant E. J. Robertson has been ordered to the navy yard. He will come to the station on the U. S. S. Capella from Florida.

All of the navy yard employees who have been enjoying leave are

SLIDES ENDANGER ROAD BRIDGE AND POWER TERMINAL

Earth Movement on Highway Near Crockett Continues to Cause Anxiety.

MARTINEZ, Jan. 1.—Continued earth slides at Hanna Hill, near Crockett, are endangering the highway shelf bridge constructed last year and according to report here today highway engineers have been given much cause to worry for the safety of the structure.

Tuesday a great quantity of earth, from above the bridge, came down, smashing the guard rail and temporarily blocking the eastern approach to the structure. There have been numerous slides below the bridge, but this is the first time in months that a slide has occurred above the structure. Officials of the Great Western Power Company are said to be watching earth movements closely. The company's southern terminal for high tension wires across the straits is on the hill above the bridge. Further slides, like that of Tuesday, it is declared, will menace the safety of the tower. The Southern Pacific last week completed construction of a second line of piling at the base of the hill, constructed in an effort to keep its tracks free of the continually sliding earth.

Turlock Man Is Accused of Stealing

TURLOCK, Jan. 1.—Nicholas Pavloff, Russian laborer, was arrested in Modesto Friday for the theft of $150 in Los Banos last Christmas eve.

Pavloff's arrest followed when he paid Brown's Furniture company $200 in currency on an outstanding debt for furniture and the payment of $150 to the Turlock company for materials he had purchased from them.

Upon the complaint of a Los Angeles man, who had kept the serial numbers of his bills, against the Russian, Constable Alex M. Stahl compared the numbers of the bills presented to the furniture company and the tax company and found them to correspond with each other.

The money is alleged to have been stolen at a Christmas party in Los Banos.

Pavloff, a resident of Turlock for about three years, will be tried in Merced county.

Livermore Schools Buy Holiday Seals

LIVERMORE, Jan. 1.—Mrs. Chesley Bush, general chairman of the Christmas seals sale for this end of the county, reports that the sum of $111.38 has been turned in to her from the schools of this section. Mrs. T. E. Knox was the chairman of the schools section and the results of the sale were largely to her efforts in arousing the enthusiasm among the students. The following are the amounts contributed by the various schools and also the names of the pupils who contributed the highest amounts in their respective schools:

Livermore high school, $11.05; Livermore grammar school (Ramona Riley), $4.05; St. Michael's school, $10.10; Elmer (Eck), $15; Townsend (William Larsen), $3.52; Mocho (William Madsen), $5; Green (John Michelle), $7.75; May (Minnie Carlotta), $5.

Oil Explosion May Result in Fatality

STOCKTON, Jan. 1.—Pauline Luceroan, Philippine at Rio Vista, is at the emergency hospital, probably fatally burned, as the result of an attempt to kindle a fire with a gallon of coal oil. The oil exploded, burning her clothing and severely from his body. Doctors say two-thirds of his skin is cooked.

HAYWARD

HAYWARD, Jan. 1.—Arrangements for a survey of soil and climatic conditions of foothill regions of the Hayward district to determine the advisability of carrying through the proposed experiment in tobacco culture in this section will be made during the latter part of this week with experts of the University of California. It was announced today by M. A. W. Lee, secretary of the Hayward Chamber of Commerce, that he is proposing to plant a ten-acre plot in the foothills near here to Turkish tobacco of a high grade. According to the proposal of A. C. Arams, president of the California Tobacco Growers' Association, who made the offer to the chamber and the Alameda County Farm Bureau, the chamber and bureau, or an organization of men created by these bodies, would furnish the plot of land and $1500 with which to carry through the experiment. The association would provide a farmer experienced in tobacco culture. The first profits from the experiment would go to pay back the advances of the $1500 and any remaining surplus would be divided equally between backers of the project and the farmer handling the crop.

Hayward Band Boys To Plan Formation

HAYWARD, Jan. 1.—The proposal to reorganize Hayward's municipal band is receiving general support from former members, it was announced today by Thomas Dias, former director, who is undertaking the re-establishment of the band. Dias said that arrangements are being completed for a meeting to be held either Thursday or Friday of this week, at which definite plans for the band's re-establishment will be made. It is estimated that $1000 will be needed to carry the band through a summer series of from twelve to twenty concerts and according to present plans the money will be obtained by donations from the Hayward city council and Chamber of Commerce. Should the organizers of the band find it possible the season would be extended. The concerts would be given in the city's plaza.

Among the former members of the band showing an active interest in the proposed reorganization are: Herman Van Dyke, Manuel Kelly, Frank Pereria, A. T. Silver, Antony Nunes and Louis Silver.

Haywardites Wait to Welcome New Year

HAYWARD, Jan. 1.—All Hayward last night saw the old year's passing and the new year's coming. Bridge parties, whist parties, house dances and other merry parties and carnival evenings were held in every section of the city.

Wandering bands of carolers paraded through the city streets all through the night. "Happy New Year" was the commonest phrase heard. And all Hayward wished all neighbors well.

The largest public function was a "snowball" dance held at Palomares, given by the Palomares Improvement Club. The affair was very well attended.

Rotarians to Review Work at Luncheon

HAYWARD, Jan. 1.—A review of the accomplishments of the club during its half-year of existence and plans for activities in early 1923 will be the major portion of the discussion at the luncheon of the Hayward Rotary Club to be held in the rooms of the Hayward Civic League of Women Voters tomorrow noon. W. H. Daniels, president of the club, will outline the work of the club and its 10-36 Local members will hold their 10-36 tomorrow's luncheon.

Decree of Divorce Given Turlock Man

TURLOCK, Jan. 1.—A decree of divorce has been granted to Walter D. Marks from his wife, Mabel Marks, by Judge Fulgerth of the Superior court. The decree was granted on the ground of cruelty and desertion. Marks is a Turlock truck driver.

JOINT INSTALLATION

MARTINEZ, Jan. 1.—Knights of Pythias and Knights of the Ku Klux Klan will hold joint installation of recently elected officers at Pythian castle Tuesday night, January 2. Following the installation ceremonies a banquet will be enjoyed.

FATHER RICARD FORECASTS COLD AND WET MONTH

Padre of the Rains at Santa Clara University Foretells January Weather.

SANTA CLARA UNIVERSITY, Jan. 1.—Father Jerome S. Ricard today issued the following weather forecast for the month of January. He predicts a cold month to start the new year.

January 1, 2, 3, fair throughout. January 3, at night, a small depression arising via Vancouver, considerably reinforced on the 4th. January 5, controlled by previous disturbance, i. e., cloudy, even rainy. January 6, fair in Central and Southern California, cloudy over North Pacific states. January 7, quite early, barometric rise over the high Northwest and barometric fall on the south side, which means another chance for rain in these parts and far down south.

January 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, generally bad weather over the coast. January 13, clearing under difficulties.

January 14, 15, 16, fair practically all over the coast. January 17, 18, 19, accumulating areas of low barometer over nearly the whole coast. South winds and rains, snow over mountains.

January 20, general clearing. January 21, 22, 23, 24, a period of fair crisp weather under high barometric pressure, possibly continued on the 25th and 26th, except that the revival of an old seat of solar disturbance may spoil these last two days.

January 27, 28, 29, a rather severe low pressure area landing over Southern British Columbia and upsetting the weather far down South. Rains, bad winds, snow.

January 30, clearing. January 31, February 1, 2, 3, fair throughout.

The King and Queen of England receive together $2,350,000 yearly.

OLD MINE BEING REOPENED AFTER SCORE OF YEARS

Roanoke, With Mint Ref. of $112,000, Rechristened The Lamphear.

MOKELEHNE HILL, Jan. 1.—After lying idle for a score or more years, the old Lamphear mine, known in the early days as the Roanoke, is being reopened by the Sperry and West interests of Stockton. The property is owned by the Sperry family.

Men are at work erecting a hoist, cleaning out the shaft, which is badly caved, and bringing in a power line for operating purposes. The shaft is down only 180 feet.

JANUARY SALES.

San Francisco

The Emporium

San Francisco

Tuesday morning, the first business day of the New Year, sees the opening of the January Sales, which are the outgrowth of the White Sales which The Emporium instituted in San Francisco fifteen years ago. These are the White Sales and more. The "Greater Than White Sales," as we call them now,

Time to start the Spring sewing, too. Preliminary lectures on the Dressmaking Service will be given Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons of this week at three o'clock in the Recital Room on the Fourth Floor. This is more than a school. It's a helpful service for any woman who sews.

The Lingerie Shop—the magnet—in the January Sales

Just as undermuslins were the instigators of the first White Sales, so now January Sales have come to be the time of times during the year to lay in a supply of fine undergarments. The popularity of silks is reflected in this Sale.

Dainty tub lingerie

Not only the snowy white, but also the dainty tinted, effects are to be had in novelty and plain materials.

600 slipover nightgowns $1.00

Dainty lacy gowns for the woman who likes frilly things, as well as plainly tailored ones are here.

400 slipover nightgowns $1.50

Crepes and novelty materials made into slipover gowns in tailored and pretty lace-trimmed styles are these.

300 envelope chemises $1.00

Of clean, crisp muslins as well as novelty weaves and crepes, all exceptionally lovely and worthy for $1.

Envelope chemises, $1.50, $1.95

give conservative and dainty lace-trimmed models of crepes, pretty novelty materials and muslin.

180 lovely princess slips, $1.00

Muslin and checked dimity make these slips with bodice tops and shadow-proof hip hems, specially priced.

1000 hand-made gowns and envelope chemises $1.95

Not only the Porto Rican and Philippine hand-sewn and hand-embroidered, but the exquisite French garments as well with hand-done finishing to add to their loveliness. This is one of the signal savings of the Sale.

The Emporium—Second Floor

Silken undergarments

meet the popular demand of the day for luxurious nether garments of dainty tints and trimmings.

Crepe de Chine envelopes, $2.95

A large assortment embraces dainty envelopes trimmed with ribbons and laces in pastel shades. White, too!

300 silk nightgowns $3.95 of soft crepe de Chine, are made bodice top and kimono sleeve style, with ribbon and lace to trim them.

300 satin bloomers $2.95

Also novelty step-ins in flesh color. The price is important when you consider the quality of the satin.

600 Neptunette envelopes, $1.85

Delightfully pretty and dainty with their ribbon straps, laces and bows, these are to be had in lingerie tints.

900 bloomers, step-ins $1.00 give a choice of Seco, crepe, batiste and dimity in checks and stripes. Flesh, white and orchid shades!

New taffeta dresses, $25 for the young miss

The January Sales present 35 new and exceptional models that are youthful and quaint. Pretty beruffled dresses, bouffant styles, coquettish bows, stitchings, bits of lace and other fashion conceits are to be had in the practical navy, brown and black for street and informal wear. Sizes 14, 16 and 18 years.

January Sales in the Gray Shop

Savings for large women here

All the year coats

Fur-collared coats these, many of them following the straight lines becoming to stout women. Fashionas, Geronas, Volverettes and Orlandos may be had. They're full length, greatly underpriced at $56, $66 and $86

Suits underpriced

Those of Marleen are trimmed with fur, while the twills are the tailored styles which you will find increasingly popular through the Spring. They were made especially for large women. Special at $34, $54, $64

Dresses at 3 prices

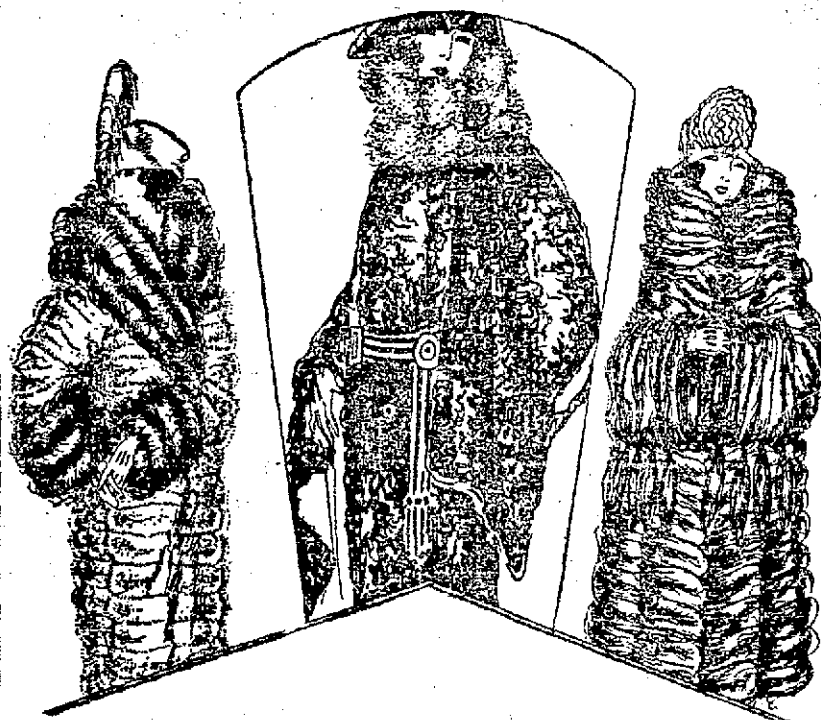

You'll find both street dresses, the long line effects developed in twills, and afternoon frocks of Canton here. Various colorings are to be had. They were formerly much higher priced than $29, $39, $49

Gray Shop—Second Floor

50 satin boudoir coats special $15.50

These have large collar, Tuxedo front, 6-inch cuff, 18-inch fold across bottom, all padded. The satin is heavy, quantity limited and price special, which means quick selling. These are especially suited to large women, though all sizes are to be had.

The Emporium, Second Floor

The January Fur Sale starts Tuesday!

Every month in the year is fur-wearing time in San Francisco! So buy your furs when prices are lowest.

Hudson coats

at five savings prices

At $270 Hudson coats 40 and 45 inches long have collars and cuffs of skunk or beaver or are self trimmed.

At $295 40-inch coats own soft crush collars of squirrel or beaver. Some of them have Mandarin collars.

At $335 are the 40 and 45-inch coats with large crush collars of skunk and beaver and the new Mandarin sleeves.

At $385 they're 40 and 45-inch with shawl or crush collars of natural eastern skunk. Much underpriced!

At $450 the coats have collars of fine Russian Kolinsky or black caracul. You may have 40 or 45-inch length.

Other furs, too, dropped in price —Wraps of Hudson, full length, have collars of Russian Kolinsky. These are truly lovely and underpriced at $525

Shopping News specials from the Sports Apparel Shop

Coats and capes $19.50

Many of the garments so attractively priced are tailored of imported fabrics. Some have fur collars! Full length, skeleton or semi-lined, they're decidedly "sporty" in shades of brown, tan, and gray mixtures.

More sports coats $29.50

These, too, choose imported and domestic fabrics, herringbones and shadow plaids. They come in popular mixtures, grays, browns and tans. They're semi-lined and exceptionally good coats at the price.

Suits for women, misses, $25.00

Far higher priced were these earlier in the season! Tailored in straight-line effect, they've detachable belts. Peau-de-cygne lines them. Some even have fur trimmings. An assortment of colors here for you! Sports Apparel Shop—Second Floor

Coats for Juniors $19.75

These of Bolivia and sports materials, trimmed with fur, give choice of many models for the girl of 13, 15 or 17.

100 girls' coats $15 of Bolivia and velour are topped with opossum collars.

75 girls' dresses $12.50

Modish crepe de Chine, wool crepe and Poirer twill are braided, hand-worked, and trimmed in contrasting colors.

The Emporium—Second Floor

January ushers in a sale of 100 suits at $52

As always, January means savings, and the suits here to be found contribute an important item to the Sales. The best styles of the season you'll find represented here, such as blouse, box and loose-back coats—and the furs, too, are the better sort, beaver, wolf, squirrel and mole. Marleen, Tarquina, Veldyne.

—Suits of natural eastern skunk have pockets, tails, $150

—Suits of natural eastern skunk have sleeves, for $595

—Suits of natural eastern skunk are tail trimmed for $285

Missing Man's Body Found in Drift Pile

WOODLAND, Jan. 1.—The body of a man believed to be Mike O'Hare, cook of Maxwell, Colusa county, missing from his home for over a month, was found by Harry Bell and two companions in a pile of drift wood gathered about the base of the Southern Pacific bridge at Knights Landing Friday night. O'Hare left for a few days' rest from work along in November and had not been heard from. The description of the body found furnished relatives in Maxwell, Colusa county, with that of O'Hare. Relatives are on their way here at the request of Coroner Ross Wilson to view the body, supposed to have been in the water a month. O'Hare was a man forty years old and well known in Colusa county.

Los Gatos Masons Install Officers

LOS GATOS, Jan. 1.—Officers for the ensuing Masonic year were installed at a meeting of over two hundred members at a meeting of Los Gatos Lodge, No. 294, last week. T. M. Wright, inspector of the Forty-first Masonic district, and Retiring Master Edward W. Voden were the installing officers. Retiring Master Voden was presented with a pastmaster's jewel, also a the past year. The officers installed are: Worshipful master, J. H. Standfield; senior warden, C. E. Woods; junior warden, Fred Berryman; treasurer, Paul E. Curtis; secretary, J. E. Miller; chaplain, Rev. H. H. Wintler; senior deacon, George W.

Auley; senior steward, F. W. Bowman; junior steward, J. W. Squitler; H. O. Baird. The Jews led all other immigrants in coming to the state.

By WOOD SOANES

CHARLES GILPIN, the negro actor, who comes here in the near future for an engagement at the Auditorium theater in Eugene O'Neill's "The Emperor Jones" is one man to whom fame came overnight. For several years Gilpin struggled along trying to develop his talent with colored dramatic companies and finally arrived on Broadway as the slave in "Drunkwater's" "Abraham Lincoln."

His work in this role was impressive and particular attention was given it by the reviewers. So finished was his performance that he was selected for the part of the Emperor by O'Neill.

Since his first performance in "The Emperor Jones" Gilpin has been voted one of the ten greatest contributors to the dramatic art of the season by the Drama League of New York and the Allied Art Societies.

He was guest of honor at the annual banquet of the organizations together with David Belasco, Lionel Atwill, Gilda Varesi, Fred Stone and other notables and he was received at the White House by President Harding.

Not only that but he was awarded the Spingarn medal by the National society for the advancement of his race, played an entire season at the Princess theater in New York, and goes to London after his road tour to play "The Emperor Jones" and "Othello" in the British metropolis.

Plans are now being formulated by a group of local men associated with some valley residents for the construction of a mammoth amusement park in the suburbs of Modesto.

The proposed park is being financed by twelve men, eight of whom are residents of the bay district, and work will start according to present plans, early this year.

Up to the present the work of preparation for the park has gone on very quietly and no definite statement will be made by those who are financing the scheme, but it is admitted that the park is assured the valley residents. It will be the only one of its kind within a radius of fifty miles and will be constructed along the line of Neptune Beach.

Forty Seasons Ago Today

"La Mascotte" is at the Oakland Tivoli with Therese Lingwood as Bettina and Elsie Thall as Themetta.

One of the features of the new park will be a big dancing hall and a swimming pool the same size as the local beach resort. Concession privileges have all been arranged for, the promoters say.

Exits and Entrances

Apparently the news broadcast by Jack Russell that Guido Deiro, husband of Russell's leading woman, Ruby Lane, was booked over the Keith and Orpheum time and was headed west, was inaccurate. Deiro, a piano-accompanist, who had trouble with the Shubert vaudeville interests some years ago, comes out with a page advertisement in Variety this week telling his troubles trying to get bookings. He is only playing small time in the east, according to his statement.

The Harry Van Tilzer music publishing house is fighting an involuntary petition in bankruptcy, filed against it by Ben Bornstein of the A-Y-B firm and Edwin Stern, a former Van Tilzer employee. In this petition the Van Tilzer assets are placed at $1000 and the liabilities at $20,000.

Arthur Van Slyke, the character comedian at the Century theater, is also a sculptor of ability. He it was who did the Will King figure while associated with that comedian in San Francisco.

Katherine Van Buren will have her first big chance with the Fulton Players next week when she essays the role of "The Girl of the Year" in "The Girl of the Year."

According to the Fulton's announcement Stuart Segal will play the character role of the "beach-comber" instead of the boy who succumbs to the lure of the tropics. It is an unusual casting. David Landau created the role.

Bernard Shaw values his name at $10,000. In arranging with the Shuberts for the use of "Jitta's Attraction," the Bertha Kalich piece piece Shaw made the demand. He adduced as proof that the Theater Guild confidently expected to lose $40,000 on "Back to Methusalem," whereas the loss was only $30,000, the difference being due to Shaw's by-line.

In the middle of this month George Lederer will take his "Hello Peaches" into New York. The cast includes Ada Mae Cameron, Stella Meyer and the team of C. W. and Florence Crosby.

While all the producers are tinkering with Shakespearean offerings Gus Hill is preparing to speak into New York with another of the "Lightning" cycle, to wit, "Old Man Smith."

James T. Powers is out of the Morocco musical comedy, "The Little Kangaroo," and Leo Ames is out of the team of C. W. and Florence Crosby.

GREATEST TREASURE FIND OF HISTORY! Treasure valued at $40,000,000 has been unearthed in the tomb of an ancient Pharaoh near Luxor, on the site of ancient Thebes, by Howard Carter, the explorer, and the Earl of Carnarvon, who have been excavating on this spot for seven years. Lady Allen, wife of the British general, is here seen leaving the tomb after viewing the discovery. Huge statues of pure gold, and the Pharaoh's gem studded throne, are part of the treasure.

'OLD YANKEE SEA SPIRIT' ASSERTS ITSELF—Forty years ago a Fruitvale sailor built this exact replica of a yacht. It was given to the 12-year-old son of a Piedmont author recently. Not having the opportunity to sail in the youngster gave it to The TRIBUNE Blue-Bird Bureau, with the understanding that it is to be given to some boy who will keep it sailing on the water. The boat looks as good today as when it was new. It is four feet long, has two masts and sports five sails.

THE TOY SHOP WINDOW.

It was Christmas eve. All the children were looking in the toy shop windows. One little girl who was rich was saying, "I know I will get that!" While the little poor girl who was standing right by her was saying, "I do wish I had enough money to get my mother a Christmas present."

Then she thought the rich girl whose name was Dorothy, might give her some money. Lillian at last got up courage to ask her. "Please girlie, won't you please give me some money to get my mother a present?" said Lillian.

Dorothy said, "All right. How much do you want?"

"I would like to have about one dollar," said Lillian.

"You can have two dollars," said Dorothy, as she opened her purse.

So Lillian, very happy went in and bought two cushions to make her chair comfortable. She still had one dollar left. So she went in and bought a pretty little white kitten. Her mother had wanted one for a long time. She then found one dollar in a little purse. She found a little card that told where the girl lived who lost the money. It was Dorothy. She gave her the money but Dorothy would not take it. She told Lillian to get a Christmas tree. So Lillian got a little one and a few ornaments. That night Lillian stayed up later than her mother and decorated the tree. And put the presents on it. When her mother woke up she saw the presents. She was pleased when Lillian told her and was much more pleased when she saw the presents.

After that Dorothy and Lillian were always friends.

SANTA CLAUS IN HOLLAND.

One day in Holland, long ago, a little girl named Katrina went out doors to play. All the children were talking about Santa Claus. I forgot to tell you that she had a brother. Katrina asked the children who Santa Claus was. She didn't know because she was only three years old.

They said, "He is a man that gives us toys, clothes, candy and shoes."

"When does he bring them?" she asked.

"In the winter—about December," they said.

When December 25th came which you know is time for Santa Claus, Katrina and her brother left their wooden shoes on the front porch.

The next morning when she got up she found her shoes were full of toys. She found a doll in her shoe. "A side of my shoe was a cart that would hold the two of them. They already had two dogs. Katrina said to her brother, "We will harness them to the cart. They will pull us."

They got a lot of other toys. So many I can't tell them all.

One day their mother bought a horse. They harnessed the dogs to the cart. Katrina's brother went out into the yard and got a branch of a tree. He got this to whip the dogs with. Then they set out for a ride, to the field. They had a good time. They rode home, went to bed and dreamed all about their ride.

That was the first time Santa had left them toys. I guess he had forgotten them the last Christmas.

But he didn't forget them again. They always got toys after that.

ABOUT WOMEN

Women reporters as well as women feature writers are employed on all the London newspapers.

The Fascisti, Italy's patriotic organization, composed to a great extent of war veterans, has a division for women.

Miss Helen Keller, the famous deaf, dumb and blind girl, receives an annuity of $2600 from the Carnegie Pension Fund.

Mrs. Rose Reiter, employed in the Federal Passport Bureau in Chicago, speaks fluently 16 languages and is able to read several others.

In some parts of Holland a birth is announced by fastening a silk pin cushion on the door. If the pin cushion is red, the baby is a boy; if white, a girl.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs is having prepared for introduction in the next congress a bill establishing national marriage and divorce regulations.

In London the proportion of females to 1000 males has risen from 1127 in 1911 to 1145 in 1921, and there has been an increase of 25,922 in widows during that period.

Short skirts, short sleeves, low necks and high heels in feminine apparel have caused several Swiss insurance companies, which insure against illness, to raise their premiums 15 per cent for women.

Mrs. Percy Bolser, well-known actress, of New York City, has turned her house around and put the kitchen where the drawing room should be, because the sunny side of the house is in the rear.

Me and Myself

We're like—
A pair of strange bull-dogs—
Me and Myself—
Somehow, we never can agree—
When Myself wants to do a thing—
Why Me will start an argument—
And so we go from morn to night—
This morning when 'twas time to rise—
Myself said—"Aw, lie down, you nut—
And snore another hour or two—
Why work your head off every day?"—
But Me got up—put on my clothes—
And sat at breakfast steaming hot—delicious—
And Myself had a grouch—
Nor spoke a word to smiling wife—
Who sat there waiting—
Me tried my best to break the gloom—
But Myself said—"Don't grin, you chump—
Some day they'll put you in a cage—
For being nutty!"—
So Myself pushed his coffee back—
Nor touched the steaming breakfast—
Got up and left the breakfast room—
And never told the patient wife good-bye—
Me said—"You ought to be ashamed—
To go away and leave your wife—
Without a kiss—or kindly word—
And she just waiting!"—
But Myself moped along in gloom—
And never glanced to right or left—
And soon a swiftly moving car—
Blared forth a jarring—roo-toot-toot—
But Myself only scowled and said—
"You think you own the bloomin' earth—
Just toot your darned old wheezy horn—
I'll never budge!"—
And as the car went whirring by—Myself just had to jump right quick—
To save his bacon—
And he was sore—oh, very sore—
And all day long he moped along—
Nor had a kindly word or thought for anyone—
Me met a maiden smiling sweet—
With pleasing eyes and stunning form—
And bowed quite low and said—"Good morning—
I never saw you look so well!"—
Myself said—"A-w-w-w—cut out that bull—
You measly old, bald-headed chump—
You've got a wife home of your own—
Who little knows—
Just how her husband carries on—
Among the dames!"—
But happy Me went on my way—
Just glad to pass a smile around—
To everyone—
If Myself would not be so rude—
I hope the day will soon be here—
When Me and Myself can agree.

Three-Piece School Costume.

(No. 1592.)

Just as the three-piece costume has gained widespread favor for grown-ups, so are they fashionable for youngsters, but of a little different consistency.

This cunning costume of tan chambray consists of separate jacket, blouse and a cunning frilled guimpe of white batiste.

Figuring chambray at 25c per yard and batiste for the guimpe at 50c per yard, the garment would cost about $1.50.

The pattern, No. 1592 cuts in sizes 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8 requires 3 3/8 yards 36-inch material for dress and bloomers, with 1 1/2 yards 36-inch material for guimpe.

Who Stole These Oakland Brides?

Five Oakland women disappeared under mysterious circumstances. Napoleon Knott, Inspector McGregor and Steve Burr, investigating, are met by death threats and by invisible, disappearing bullets, which apparently drop messages within the room through broken window panes.

The "blood diamond" of the Romanoffs is taken from McGregor by a woman. Knott gets track of a Russian "duke." College student named Black reports his wife stolen and carried to foot of Grant street wharf.

Chapter 14
KNOTT'S SECRET.

"Mr. Fleming is still in his room, sir," said the servant, who met the investigators at the door. "He gave instructions that he was not to be disturbed and he has not called."

"That's very strange," said Steve. "Mr. Fleming generally is active. I never knew him to remain in bed during the day."

McGregor, exhibiting his inspection shield, brushed past the servant.

"Come on my man. Show me your master's room, quick."

The frightened fellow preceded the officer up a broad flight of stairs and halted before the closed door of a bedroom.

"It is locked, sir," said the man servant.

McGregor pulled out his chain of keys, worked a long thin one about until the key on the inside was heard to fall on the carpet and then turned back the lock.

For a moment he faced the others grimly, with a prophesy of tragedy showing in his eyes.

"You'd better not come in, Miss Burr," he said, kindly. "You might see something that you would not wish to remember."

Then he opened the door, entered quickly and closed it after Napoleon Knott.

One glance convinced them that McGregor's anticipated tragedy had not developed. Fleming, trussed up in a chair by a heavy rope wound about his hands, legs and body and gagged tightly, was straining at his bonds with an expression of desperation written in his eyes. But for all that the millionaire sportsman was very much alive and kicking, indeed.

"It was that woman," cried Fleming, the instant the gag had been removed. "The woman who held you up, McGregor. She did it."

The men busied themselves untie the ropes and they did not hear Steve enter, until her heavy breathing warned them of her presence.

Fleming was unable to rise immediately, even after he was untied, because of the strain and circulation was doubly vicious.

"You're nice boob, you are!" he charged McGregor. "You and your bonehead cops have made a fine mess of it. First you let a woman rob you of my wife's diamonds. Then she comes in and loots my house under your very eyes. The commissioner will hear of this one, too."

He struggled erect and stamped his foot on the carpet to send the blood coursing through his numb limbs.

"Don't allow yourself to become excited. You might faint," suggested Napoleon Knott, with a hint of sarcasm in his tone.

"Sit down and tell us what has happened," commanded the inspector, ignoring the millionaire's display of anger.

"Sit down nothing," snarled Fleming. "I've been tied down for hours. Sit down! I'll stand up."

"Early this morning I was awakened when the lights of my room were turned on. I sat up to face a revolver in the hands of that masked woman. She forced me to get dressed at the point of the gun and then bound me in that chair. She already had gone through my clothes, but now she proceeded to ransack my room."

"I asked her what she was seeking. I pleaded with her to return my mine. She wouldn't say a word but only laughed at me."

"Finally she was ready to leave, she gagged me. I'll bet she robbed the house while I was here trussed up."

Fleming turned to the inspector again, his eyes blazing as he said, "This."

"Yes, she robbed the house," he said. "Why don't you search?"

"Where do you keep your valuables?" asked McGregor, calmly.

"In my wife's room. And there is silver plate in the dining room safe."

The door to Mrs. Fleming's suite was locked, but McGregor gained admittance quickly enough. The chamber was in confusion. Drawers had been taken out and the contents dumped on the bed. The floor was littered with papers, while jewelry, rings, lingerie and a number of other articles were spread on dressers, tables and on chairs.

"We're robbed," cried Fleming. "Yes, she robbed us."

"Wait a minute, hesitate, cut down the speed," warned Tootles. "Examine all this stuff. See if anything is missing. Perhaps you're not robbed after all."

"Not robbed?" exclaimed the millionaire. "You look at this looted room and then have the effrontery to suggest that I will find everything safe?"

"I have the effrontery," returned Napoleon Knott. "I'll wager money that nothing has been stolen."

Fleming gave a snort of disgust and fell to examining the various jewel boxes and valuables. Finally he, with the assistance of McGregor and Steve, had replaced everything and had brought a semblance of order in the place.

Paul Fleming wiped his brow and scowled at Napoleon Knott. "How did you guess it?" he demanded. "Nothing has been taken."

"I reserve my professional advice for clients," answered Knott coldly.

"Then why are you in my house? Who invited you here?" asked the sportsman.

"I came to see you," responded Mr. Knott, serenely. "I came to tell you that you are not going to proceed against Inspector McGregor."

JUBILEE'S PARTNER

by Judd Mortimer Lewis

And my father reached out and got me by the neck and helped me through the window.

Yesterday was like a funeral at Sunday School. Everything was about the old year of which yesterday was the tail end. The super and all the teachers said the old year was dying. And they got us to feeling so sad about it that I could see an old fellow laying there with white whiskers and a bald head. And I almost cried. I would not of cared if we could of taken it out and buried it and I could of been one of the pallbearers and rid in a hearse or something.

Last night after dark I clumb out and me and Jubilee went to town with the bunch and hammered on tin cans and whistled on our fingers. And them that could afford them were blowing horns. And it was past 12 o'clock when me and Jubilee got home, and my father reached out and got me by the neck and helped me through the window. He had been laying for me a long time, because every body wanted me to mind Amabelle Lee whilst they went to town. He said: "Don't you know it was wrong to sneak out that way?" I said: "Yes, sir, but that was last year and I was not as old as I am this year, and I did not know so much as I do now. But now that I am old enough to have long pants I know a lot more." He only said: "Go to bed!" and let go of me and went downstairs. I was lucky that I did not start the new year with a lousing.

It was cold this morning when I let Jubilee down. And when I had milked and fed my face and was out looking for the bunch I holidayed "Happy New Year" at everybody I met, and they hoistered it at me, and it didn't make any difference if I knew them or not. It was fun.

We all went around to the school and wished Mush and his wife a Happy New Year. Mush said to stick around till he got back and we would have some fun. He said for Little Green Perambulator to chop some onions whilst he was gone, and we done it for her. Then he come back with some weenies and buns, and he had a sandwich on each a sandwich out of weenie and bun and onion that was about as good an anything we ever et. Bunt, whose father works in a bank, factory got twice as much opinion in his class as I ever had, because Mush's wife said I would help his atmosphere. Mush said he used to live out West and break horses for a living. I bet he did it by setting on them, for he is very fat. That is a joke.

We had turkey for dinner but me and Jubilee were out playing. I got the wishbone and the neck when I got home. My father made me go to bed early because a new year of school starts tomorrow. He blamed me for everything.

Adam was a lucky guy. No mother-in-law ever came to pay long visits and tell him how he and Eve should run their household.

He could go for a walk in the Garden of Eden with Eve, without having her put a $3.00 dollar gown or a $50.00 dollar fur coat.

When he went to bed at night he knew his wife would not do any work and he would not have to pay her. But things have changed since then.

Taint right.

The following recipe will make five medium sized loaves. For the ordinary sized family the quantities should be halved.

Cream, 2 cups Crisco (scant), add and cream together 2 cups sugar, add 1 teaspoon ground cloves, 1 teaspoon all-spice, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 teaspoons vanilla, add 3 eggs beaten light. Mix together thoroughly and stir in 1 cup dark molasses. Add to this 2 lbs. currants washed and dried, 2 lbs. seeded raisins, 1/2 lb. candied lemon peel shaved fine, juice and rind of 1 lemon, 1 teaspoon salt. Beat into this mixture 3 teaspoons soda, dissolved in a little cold water. Add 1/2 cup sour milk. Beat smooth with egg beater. Mix in 1 cup currants, and many 4 cups nut meats cut fine. When all has been thoroughly blended, divide between five medium sized baking pans. The mixture should be very stiff. Bake in moderate oven 350 deg. for about an hour and a half.

Child's History of the HUMAN RACE

PRIESTS, PRAYERS AND CHAPELS.

Our picture today is taken from a hand-written book of the Middle Ages. It shows a scene in a church. A woman is kneeling before a priest. She is confessing her sins.

The priest is seated in a round-backed chair. He is wearing a black hoodlike head-dress. His body is clothed in a robe which looks a good deal like the "togas" of the Romans used to wear.

From early times in the Christian church, it was believed that souls of the dead could be helped by prayers of the living. The usual time for such prayers to be said was at mass, (the morning church service). The priest was asked to say mass for one soul at one time, for another soul at another time.

During the Middle Ages, it came to be a custom for men and women to state in their wills that they wanted priests to say mass for their souls.

Sometimes the person was satisfied with one or two masses, but often he asked for many more. Certain wills provided that a priest should be engaged to say mass from thirty to forty days. At least one will asked mass for fifty years!

In other cases, the wills ordered a certain number of masses to be said. This number was sometimes as high as five or ten thousand.

Almost every noble in western Europe had a chapel of his own. This chapel was either in his home or right next to it. The home of the noble was, of course, on the order of a castle, a strong tower-like affair.

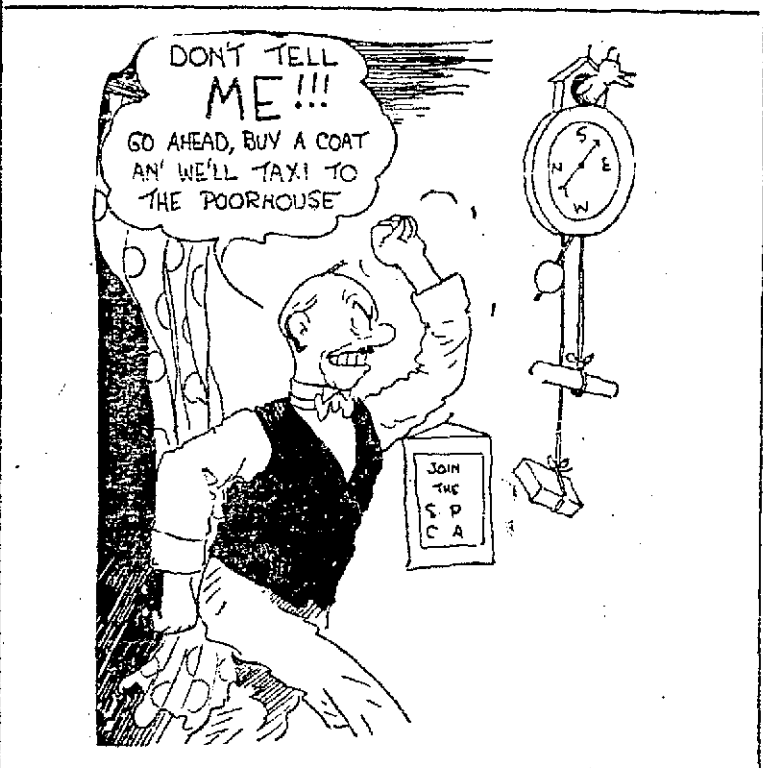

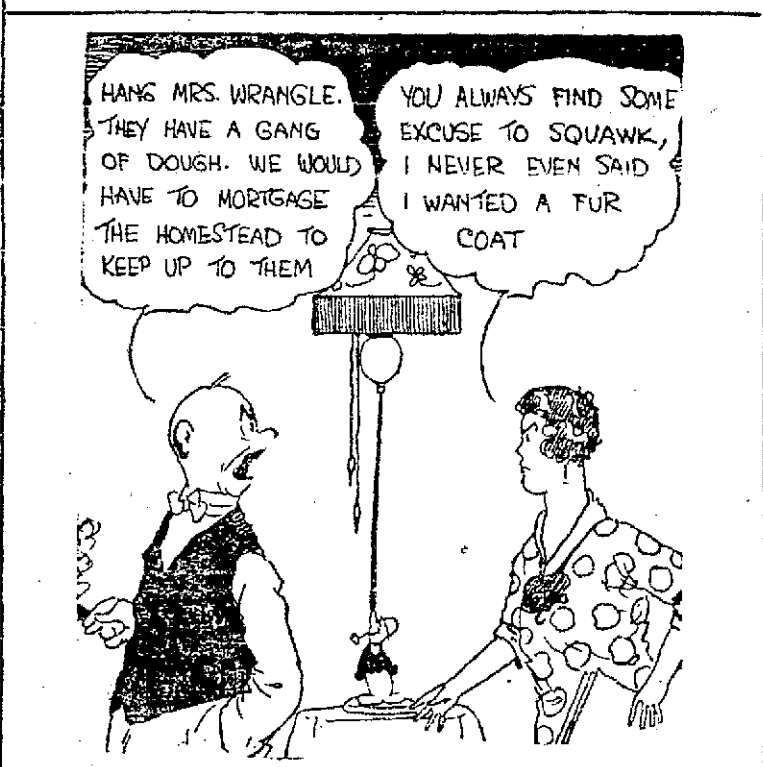

Some chapels of nobles have as many as four or five altars. One English earl kept up a chapel with seven priests and sixteen members of the choir.

ATHENS ATHLETIC CLUB MAKING PLANS FOR BASKETBALL

SAN FRANCISCO ALL-STARS WIN IN INTER-CITY SOCCER SERIES FROM TEAM FROM SOUTH

ATHENS ATHLETIC CLUB PLANNING FOR OREGON AGGIE GAME

Local Clubmen to Meet Collegians at Auditorium Next Thursday Night; O. A. C. Team Plays in Reno Tonight and Tomorrow.

By DOUG. MONTELL

Given a reasonable amount of competition the basketball team of the Oregon Agricultural College appears to be a quintet capable of furnishing a flock of entertainment to basketball fans in these parts. The Aggies have played five of their ten scheduled games, winning four and losing one to date. This evening and tomorrow night they are scheduled to appear in Reno against the University of Nevada team, returning for two more games in the Eastbay Wednesday and Thursday nights against the Battery "C" team at Livermore and the Athens Athletic Club at the Oakland Auditorium respectively.

The two coming appearances of the Aggies here should give local followers of the hoop sport a glimpse of what can be done by high class teams at the indoor game.

The Oakland Y. M. C. A. team was defeated by the mere fact that they were facing a team of collegians last Saturday night. This will not be the case in either the game at Livermore or with the Athens club and Coach Hager, before leaving for Reno, said that he expected the hardest game of the trip against the Athens Club team.

Players Criticize Game Across Bay.

Hager refused to comment on the game in San Francisco which the Aggies lost to St. Ignatius College. But several of the players passed remarks about the game which would lead one to believe that they were not entirely satisfied with the way the game was handled.

"The loss of a game under such circumstances as we played in San Francisco is no disgrace for any team," said one of the Aggies today. "It wasn't basketball—it was football."

The Aggie squad, with the exception of Perry and Ridings, who are suffering from strained ankles, are in good shape and left today confident that they will make an excellent showing against the University of Nevada.

The Aggie report that the University of Idaho appears to be the team to beat in the northwest section of the conference. Washington is not reckoned as strong as last year, while W. S. C. and Oregon are not considered formidable.

All-Collegian Team for A. A. C.

Manager Solon Damianik of the Athens Athletic Club stated this morning that his team would virtually be an all-collegiate aggregation of former University of California players.

Damianik, himself a former California basketball star, will be in the Athens line-up at forward with Harold Coop, last year's varsity star, at the other forward position. "Monte" Evans, a former California 145-pound star, will be the third forward on the club, held in reserve.

George Hjelte, who has played with the Berkeley American Legion and other teams during the past few weeks getting in shape and a brother of "Mush" Hjelte, the O. A. C. center, will oppose his "kid"

Star Forward of Athens Club

HAROLD COOP, one of the most accurate forwards in the Coast Conference last year when he was a member of the University of California basketball team, remembered as having been a star in the series against Stanford at the local Auditorium, will be one of the regulars in the Athens Athletic Club line-up this year in basketball.

The greens committee at Sequoia decided to close the course until further notice on account of the continuous rain that has fallen recently and which has overtaxed the drainage system. Any further play while the greens and fairways are in their present condition might ruin the course for spring and summer tournaments. "Steve," who has been caddy master for many years, has been promoted to the position of superintendent of the course, a position he is sure to fill in a satisfactory and conscientious manner. Pete Anderson, who hails from the famous Carnoustie golf course of Scotland, has been appointed "Steve's" successor. Pete has been with the Berkeley club in a similar position, where he handled a large staff of new caddies in an able manner.

The Christmas cup tournament, which was contested over 36-hole match play against par at Sequoia, resulted in a victory for a limit handicap player. Dr. Kirby Smith made good use of his 14 handicap, giving a most interesting exhibition, showing how many golfers fail in the execution of their shots, his illustration and demonstration of the wrong method will start many of the gallery to correct their faulty methods.

Crimson Crew Has Nucleus Of Veterans

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 1.—More oarsmen than at any time in Harvard's history are expected on the water this spring. In the autumn season just closed 552 men took part in rowing, but more are expected to report this year. Dr. R. H. Howe Jr. has just received a reappointment as director of rowing for 1923-1924.

Howe has placed Harvard rowing on a sound basis as far as furnishing exercise and fun for the many is concerned. Last year, when 582 rowed during the spring a new record was created. Of this number sixteen crews rowed in twenty-four outside races in which 119 individuals took part, and in intramural rowing every man had his share in rowing a race. More than 200 men are now engaged in voluntary rowing on the machines. Dr. Howe is assisted by five coaches, Frank Muller, Ed Brown, the two Haines and Ed Wachter, who combines the teaching of sculling with his basketball duties. There are in addition eight boatmen, five launches and two best fours, a pair oars, 5 double sculls, 3 tubs, 12 wherries, 12 compromise, 27 singles and 692 oars.

Coch Muller is now handling a squad of thirty varsity oarsmen on the voluntary system of reporting.

Los Angeles Soccer Team Is Defeated

San Francisco Wins in Inter-City Series; Final Games On Today.

The Los Angeles soccer team went down to defeat yesterday afternoon at Tobin Field in San Francisco by a score of 2 to 0 at the hands of the San Francisco Kickers. The transbay eleven was composed of an all-star selection from the six teams in the San Francisco Football league. The first game Saturday resulted in a tie between the Oakland and Sacramento teams.

A double-header is on the program for today, Oakland meeting Los Angeles in the first game of the day at Tobin Field at 1 p. m., while the San Francisco and Sacramento eleven clash in the final contest of the Inter-City series at 3 p. m. at the same field.

The game yesterday was played on a heavy field, dotted with puddles of water, but despite the difficulty playing conditions was one of the best exhibitions of soccer seen about the bay this year.

Sven Lefland, star center forward of the San Francisco all-star team, was the bright outstanding star of the day, kicking both goals for the winners and playing a bang up article of offensive soccer throughout. Lefland sent a third shot through the net from the field but the score was not allowed by the referee on account of one of his teammates being offside.

The first half went scoreless, both teams feeling out the defensive strength of their rivals and playing cautiously. Toward the end of the first half the teams alternated in the possession of the ball and took it down the field repeatedly in long sweeping rushes that threatened to break the deadlock.

The second half had only been away five minutes when Lefland kicked the first goal and his second score came a few minutes before the game ended.

The line-ups: San Francisco: Fox, Los Angeles: Olsen. Back: Tunnicliffe, Harlan. Back: Brown, Roberts. Half back: Bonar, Thordarson. Half back: Davidson, Finlayson. Half back: Cook, Harrison. Forward: Allen, Lefland. Forward: Brix, McCubbin. Forward: Sheppard, Hay. Forward: Parkinson.

Football Paying Business in North

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 1.—Football made approximately $30,000 for the University of Washington during the 1922 season, according to Graduate Manager Darwin McInnest. The season was the most successful, financially, the Huskies ever had. Approximately 100,000 admission tickets were purchased for the home games during the season.

Butte Hi Athlete Wins Championship

BUTTE, Mont., Jan. 1.—Dan Graham, a Butte high school boy, for the third successive year, is the amateur skiing champion of Montana. Six skiers of the state were represented in the annual tournament, which included a half mile and a mile race, here tonight. Dave Walsh of Butte was second in both races. Harry McNeil of Anaconda was third in the half mile race and Jack Eddy of Helena third in the mile event.

Here's an Idea for New Year's Resolution

By BOB SHAND

Here's a story with a moral in it or something, maybe an idea for a New Year's resolution. A poor newspaperman tells the tale as follows and also to wit:

Coming down Broadway near Piedmont avenue the other morning a roadster got in front of me and insisted on driving at the same gait as a street car. There wasn't a chance to get past. It was 7 o'clock in the morning, which is a late hour for an afternoon paper reporter to get to work despite the general idea that they don't start until noon. For three blocks I tried to pass that bird but there wasn't room between him and the street car. But the time was not wasted. Every block gave me some new ideas and I had laid in one wonderful supply of ideas ready for use when the bird in front finally either speeded up or slowed down a little.

If that guy was bigger than me I intended shipping him some fast language and keep right on going. If he was smaller the idea was to stop him and give him H—

At 29th and Broadway the street opens up and I shot up alongside of him, and looking him straight in the eye I say to him:

"GOOD MORNING BOSS."

If you are making any resolutions for the new year better include one about not bawling out another driver until you learn who he is.

Strangler Lewis posed for a picture showing how he would protect himself in a mixed match with Dempsey. The Strangler appears with his arms draped around his head but the caption does not state what Dempsey would be doing in the vicinity of Mr. Lewis' food depositary.

The attendance at the Pitt-Stanford game Saturday was very skinny, which was to be expected. But if they had sent that bunch of Berkeley Bears up against the eastern eleven it is certain there would have been an overflow.

A Pitt victory over Stanford was conceded in advance which accounted the gate receipts considerably and the "friendly" feeling between the two Warner aggregations also hurt. It would have been different had they sliced these Berkeley Bruins onto the Panthers.

College Sport Chatter

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 1.

George Foster Sanford will coach football again next Fall at Rutgers college. All rumors concerning the possibility that he might become head of the Yale staff, his alma mater, were emphatically shattered today when he announced through Graduate Manager William P. Garrison that next September he would be back coaching Rutgers.

Sanford has completed his tenth coaching year here on Rutgers, having come here in 1913, and in all that time has never received a penny for his services. He signs no contract nor does he get remuneration in any indirect way or from any source, but as head coach—and for many of the reasons the only coach—he has full authority to practice his own methods without hindrance from a graduate or faculty board. The Rutgers football system is highly centralized.

Sanford and his staff have been highly successful in the past three years. In his freshman year he cleaned up in both track and cross-country and made the varsity football squad in his second year. He took up basketball in his sophomore year although he had never previously participated in that sport. Last year he was one of the stars of the quintet. He ranks high as a student, gaining honors during his first two years and barely missing them last year. He is president of the senior class. During the war he served as Lieutenant with Battery A of the 102d Field Artillery and is now first Lieutenant of Battery B of the same organization.

At the recent football dinner

Sanford introduced Captain-elect Kingman of the 1923 team as the captain of the "only undefeated Rutgers eleven." And he added, "I prophesy that next year that statement will hold good."

Rhode Island Has Versatile Captain

George A. Chandler of Providence, R. I., who has been elected captain of the Rhode Island State College basketball team, has been one of the outstanding athletes at the Kingston institution for the past three years. In his freshman year he cleaned up in both track and cross-country and made the varsity football squad in his second year. He took up basketball in his sophomore year although he had never previously participated in that sport. Last year he was one of the stars of the quintet. He ranks high as a student, gaining honors during his first two years and barely missing them last year. He is president of the senior class. During the war he served as Lieutenant with Battery A of the 102d Field Artillery and is now first Lieutenant of Battery B of the same organization.

The West Berkeley Athletic club basketball team nipped out the Berkeley Titans by a score of 28-27 in one of the best games of the early season at the Burbank school.

Annapolis Is Enthused Over Court Season

Middies Believe Heavier Quintet Can Defeat Army In Basketball.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 1.—There is distinct gratification at the naval academy over the showing of the basketball team and its prospects for the coming season. The great objective of the season is to defeat the military academy five, which plays at Annapolis on February 24. Last year the soldiers won for the first time as the two previous contests resulted in naval victories.

The midshipmen have had no difficulty in winning the games played up to this time. Play will be resumed January 6, when Duquesne University, a newcomer on naval academy schedules will be met. The squad will be greatly strengthened by the reporting of players who have been with the football squad. They include Parr, McKim and experienced guard; McKim, two years the leading forward of the team; Filippin, who has played for the basketball and guard on the Centre College five, and who was captain of that team last year, and Stapley, who played guard at Peabody Institute.

Center is now being filled by Scheibler, who has developed a keen eye for the basket, besides having the requisite height, but he will have considerable opposition in Filippin, Ople and Johnson. For the vacant place at guard, Jones, Barnes and Stapley are in the lead. Jones is light and fast, while Barnes has been a substitute in the position for three seasons. Stapley is a newcomer, who has a good preparatory school reputation. Though McKim and Harris, the forwards of last year, are on hand they will not find holding their positions a simple task. The most dangerous rival is Craig, who holds the scoring record for the Navy.

The team will be heavier this year. Captain Parr, guard, weighs 180, while Filippin and Stapley weigh 175 each. None of the forwards goes over 150 pounds. The schedule includes two games with the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia on Jan. 17, and in Annapolis on Jan. 24. The game with Georgetown will be played in Annapolis on Jan. 27.

Rivalry In Athletics World Wide

Europe Taking Greater Interest Than Ever Before Says Adj-General Sherrill.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 1.—That athletic competition is rapidly extending itself throughout the world and that this growth is largely due to the participation of American athletes in international sporting events, is the opinion of former Adjutant-General C. H. Sherrill, New York National Guard, American member of the International Olympic committee, who has just returned from a tour of Europe.

General Sherrill is one of the best posted men on athletic affairs in the country and has been personally interested in sports from his college days when, as a member of Yale University, he won the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America 100-yard dash in 1901, 1902 and 1903, and the 220-yard dash in 1902, 1903 and 1904, breaking the record for the events in 1900. He says that America's highly developed athletic system and its beneficial effect on the nation's youth has been brought forcibly to the attention of European statesmen and educators by American athletes who have competed in European sporting events.

"The influence of American participation in events abroad has so aroused the rivalry of Europe as to produce in many countries as radical a movement in athletics as Fascism is a radical movement in Italian politics."

"The tremendous rivalry of athletic sports in Finland is well known, being the smallest team of two dozen. A finished second to America's numerous teams at Antwerp. The 'schools' or athletic groups of Czechoslovakia are so successful that it is not unusual to have 10,000 competitors in a single set of games. Italy and France are not far behind. In Alexandria, Egypt, a huge athletic stadium, being built. In Japan, baseball is almost as popular as in the United States."

General Sherrill added that Europeans could never get over their astonishment at the athletic feats of American athletes in this country. The record of the 100,000 Americans who train for the 1924 Olympic team greatly taxed their credulity, he said, while the fact that nearly 1,000,000 men would try

High Schools Play In Northwest Today

CORVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 1.—Scott football team of Toledo, Ohio, rested yesterday from its training labors and all members were pronounced fit for today's contest with Corvallis high to be played here. The visiting team from Toledo is expected to arrive on a special car and was given a noisy welcome. The Corvallis men had a final workout today in a sea of mud. Prospects were for a wet field and rain today.

NEWCOMB QUILTS AS MANAGER OF LOCAL ORPHEUM

Declares His Reasons For Action Are Personal—One of Many Changes.

Newcomb, for the past fourteen months manager of the Oakland Orpheum, has sent his resignation to Harry Singer, general manager of the Pacific coast division of the circuit to take effect immediately.

Newcomb announced today that his reasons for severing his connection with the organization are purely personal and stated that he will remain in charge of the local house until he is relieved by his successor.

The decision of Newcomb to retire from the management of the local house comes as a surprise to the theater people. He refused to discuss his reasons with the exception of an enigmatical statement.

"Any business that interferes

'GOLD DIGGERS' PLEASES CROWD; NOT PREACHMENT

Avery Hopwood Preachment on Chorus Girl Life Liked at Showing.

One rather imagines that a chorus girl acquaintance wept sad, salty tears on Avery Hopwood's friendly lap and sniffled against fate and the critics.

"Avery! it is possible she wailed, 'O Avery, because we wear furs and a haughty mien, sleep until eleven, ride in purple limousines and have a house in the country, doesn't prove anything, does it?'"

And Hopwood, being a gentleman and a historian, agreed that it didn't.

"Then prove it," pleaded the blonde and the misunderstood.

So he wrote "The Gold Diggers." Oakland saw this section of New York life and pursuit at the Auditorium, last night, and it must be recorded here that Oakland enjoyed it. "The Gold Diggers" may not be successful as a preachment but it is of excellent flavor and is riotously entertaining. Its lines are vaudeville "gags" and coated with slang; its ladies and gentlemen cut up in the approved New York apartment house mode; its heroine is a nice girl in spite of everything, of homespun birth and with an old-fashioned mother; its plot is of so-so consequence. Nothing is left to the imagination, and nothing should be when a playwright is attempting to demonstrate what Hopwood set out to do.

NEW BROADWAY

NEW PIEDMONT

A rare bit of screen entertainment is assured for patrons of the New Broadway theater today in Sidney Franklin's latest superproduction, "The Gold Diggers." This picture, which is an adaptation of Andrew Soule's famous and intensely interesting novel of the same name, is a story of romance, of tragedy, of pathos and happiness, with some very humorous sidelights thrown in for good measure.

Harry Carey in "The Texas Sphynx" is also included in this exceptional New Year's day program.

HEARTY COMEDY IS WELL PUT ON BY CLEVER TRIO

"Three Wise Fools" Is Delightfully Done; New Variety Bill Enjoyable.

Teddy and Jimmy and Dick returned to Oakland yesterday in the respective persons of Frank Darien, Henry Shumer and George Rand, and gave a splendid performance of "Three Wise Fools." They are delighted with the assistance of the Fulton Players.

Those who have seen John Golden's wholesome comedy before will remember that the players who are engaged with the three title roles have the "fattest parts" in the play and to the credit of the three selected it must be said that they left nothing to the imagination.

In the role created by Claude Gillingwater, Frank Darien was ideal. While he lacks the stature of the original, he made up for it by his careful and intelligent reading of the role of the grumpy old

SOFA PILLOW SETTING

Jerry Lamar, portrayed by the delectable Gertrude Vanderbilt, is called upon to prove that a couch is not just a piece of furniture, but a lady still. When Wally Saunders' millionaire uncle threatens to cut him off with the customary million if he persists in marrying a beauty of the show, Jerry sets about to elevate that gentleman's estimate of the chorus girl. She succeeds to the extent of winning the millionaire's heart, automobiles and castle.

During the progress of the story we are introduced to New York's sofa pillow set, delightful young women who provide the color and life of musical comedy and who toil much and spin webs for wealthy men. It is the musical comedy of the musical comedy, and with an old-fashioned mother; its plot is of so-so consequence. Nothing is left to the imagination, and nothing should be when a playwright is attempting to demonstrate what Hopwood set out to do.

STAY IS ATTRACTIVE

Miss Vanderbilt is the bright and very particular star in the musical comedy. She is attractive in her role, according to schedules A or B of the playwright's Rules of Conduct for Chorus Girls as Portrayed on the Pigeon-English-Speaking Stage. FRANKLIN

Gloria Swanson has the most dramatic role of her career in "The Impossible Mrs. Bellew," her newest picture. It is a story of a woman who, in the name of love, sacrifices everything for a man who is a fraud and a liar. The picture is a masterpiece of dramatic art, and it is a pity that it is not shown in more theaters.

CHRISTMAS SEAL DRIVE SUCCESS

New Year reminders to citizens of Alameda county who have made no returns on the Christmas Seals received through the mail early in December are being sent out today by the Tuberculosis Association. Miss Annie Florence Brown, President of the Association, is the one who is sending out the reminders.

Happy New Year! 1922 WAS Prosperous

PRELIMINARY figures show that in 1922 Western States Life, the fastest growing young company in the business, again outdistanced all its previous records. During each month of the year this Company wrote more new cash business than in the corresponding month of any year in its history—1922 showing more than 6,000 new policies written, representing cash business in excess of $17,000,000.00

With over 25,000 Western States Life policies carried by Western men and women, this Company's paid for insurance in force now totals over —an increase of $10,000,000.00 for the year—a gain 35% greater than that of 1921 which was our best previous year.

$61,000,000.00

Admitted Assets of this Company as of December 31st, 1922, exceed a gain of $1,250,000.00 for the year. Our new Coupon Savings policies furnish the essence of modern life insurance, and afford complete protection for a man's FAMILY, his BUSINESS and his OLD AGE.

$7,500,000.00

U. S. AND CANADA COOPERATING TO SAVE SALMON

Sockeye Salmon Will Be Exterminated Unless Action Is Taken

American and Canadian fishing authorities are endeavoring to bring about a closer control of the salmon fishing industry of the north. Though no agreement has yet been reached, the state fisheries board of Washington is confident that the sockeye salmon will be put into effect before 1923. Canadian authorities seem willing to agree to stop all sockeye salmon fishing during the winter months for a period, and then open the even years and close fishing on odd numbered years. This plan, it is urged, would gradually permit the Fraser river run to be restored, or in any event would greatly improve the situation. The proposed regulation would not affect other varieties of salmon.

The Washington fisheries board is rapidly building up a good run of humpbacked and coho and another biennial or two it is believed a satisfactory run of these fish will be guaranteed in Puget sound waters.

COLONEL OWSLEY, LEGION HEAD, TO BE WELCOMED

National Commander Arrives in Oakland Tomorrow; Reception Ready.

American Legion men, city and county officials, and business men on both sides of the Bay will aid in extending a welcome to Colonel Alvin Owsley, national commander of the Legion, during a visit which he will make to the Bay region.

Owsley, who will arrive in Oakland tomorrow morning by auto, accompanied by Seth Millington, state commander of the Legion, will be met by a delegation from Oakland Post No. 5 of the American Legion. Owsley and Millington will be taken to the Hotel Oakland, where a reception will be held.

Following the reception the two Legion officials will go to San Francisco, where they will visit Legion headquarters, and will be the luncheon guests of the Commercial club. Upon their arrival at the Ferry building they will be met by a police and military escort, which will accompany them to the city hall, where they will be officially welcomed by Mayor Rolph.

Following the Commercial club luncheon, Colonel Owsley, it is expected, will address the members of the organization upon the Americanization program of the Legion.

In the afternoon the Legion officials will return to this side of the bay where, in the evening, they will be the guests of honor at a banquet to be given by the local Legion post at the Hotel Oakland. Those invited to the banquet include many prominent citizens of the Eastbay, and city and county officials.

The public has been invited to attend both the reception in the morning and the evening banquet at the Hotel Oakland.

After the banquet all the Legion posts of Alameda county will hold a joint meeting in Aahmes Temple, Thirteenth and Harrison streets, where Colonel Owsley will deliver an address. This meeting will be made the occasion for the installation of the new commanders of the various local posts.

Colonel Owsley will leave Oakland tomorrow night by train for Oregon, Washington, and the other states of the Northwest.

Time enough to whitewash a chicken coop is contained in the human body.

Junior U. C. Student Named Editor of Poetry Magazine

MISS BARBARA BURKS, University of California girl, who will assist in editing new magazine of verse to make its debut shortly in Mexico.

BERKELEY, Jan. 1.—To Miss Barbara Burks, talented junior student at the University of California, has been accorded the honor of being chosen an assistant editor of what will probably be the only poetry magazine dominated entirely by women writers.

Miss Burks has just been selected by Miss Idella Purnell, graduate of the state university with this year's class, as one of a staff of assistant editors for "The Palms," a magazine now being compiled in the romantic climes of Guadalajara, Mexico, where the latter has been since receiving her college education.

"Real American verse" will hold first place in the interesting new publication, although contributions typical of other climes will also be received. Contributors will be limited to women and the first issue of the magazine, which is expected to reach Berkeley the middle of next month, will see verse from a number of well-known male writers.

Miss Burks, who is the daughter of Dr. Jesse D. Burks, university psychologist, is a writer of ability and has contributed both prose and poetry to various publications. She is interesting member of the college set in Miss Purnell's new magazine and a distinctly California flavor is expected to be given to the new publication.

While in college Miss Purnell was head of the university verse guild. Since going to Mexico to be with her father, a prominent professional man, she has been filling the role of secretary to the American consulate at Guadalajara, and has been supervising the production of one-act plays at the American club. She is receiving contributions for her magazine at Galeana 150, Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico.

MOTORIST GUESTS STEAL PURSE AND HIS AUTOMOBILE

He Picks Up Two Strangers
On the Road and They Hold Him Up.

"Happy New Year!" called out Harold J. Simmons late last night to two men whom he found trudging along High street, near the Southern Pacific tracks. "Can't I give you a lift?"

"Thanks, same to you," responded the travelers, heartily, climbing into the rear seat of Simmons' car. "This is the life," they agreed, settling down comfortably in the cushions. "Where to?" asked Simmons, pleasantly.

"Lake Chabot," said one of his guests.

"Huh?" demanded Simmons.

The muzzle of an automatic was shoved over the back of the seat and against Simmons' overcoat.

"Lake Chabot, James," said the man behind the gun.

In the solitude at Lake Chabot, Simmons' guests took from him his watch, $1.50 and his automobile.

Half an hour later he boarded a late street car at the end of the line in the East Oakland foothills.

"Happy New Year!" remarked the conductor.

"You don't say!" replied Simmons.

He told the police that his home is at 3537 Elmwood avenue.

Man Charged With Assault Gives Bail

RICHMOND, Jan. 1.—J. H. Gibbs, charged by C. C. Belche with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, was released from the city jail Saturday night when friends put up the necessary $1000 cash bail.

Gibbs and Belche fought Thursday night in Belche's rooms here over a debt, Belche receiving severe cuts about the neck and arms.

National Thrift Week To Be Observed Here

National Thrift Week, beginning on Benjamin Franklin's birthday, January 17, and closing on January 23, will be fittingly observed in Oakland.

The thrift week idea originated with the national Y. M. C. A. several years ago, and is sponsored by the American Bankers' Association and chambers of commerce, real estate boards and other organizations throughout the nation.

Frank D. Moyer is chairman of the Oakland Thrift Week committee and E. C. Lyon, president of the Oakland Y. M. C. A., represents the latter organization in directing Thrift Week plans in Oakland.

Other members of the general committee are Arthur E. Caldwell, Oakland Bank; William Cavalieri, stock and bond broker; R. H. Mouser of the Equitable Life Insurance Company; Frank Flint Porter, president of the Oakland Real Estate Board; Hugh L. Hagan, president of the Church Federation of Oakland; Milton Mazor, representing the Retail Merchants' Association; Dan Read, representing the trust departments of various banks, and W. H. Barry.

The week has been divided into special days, on each of which a particular feature of National Thrift Week will be observed. Each day has its individual chairman and separate sub-committees to work out stunts for that particular day.

The special days and their chairmen as observed in Oakland follow:

Bank Day, January 17—A. E. Caldwell, chairman.

Budget Day, January 18—William Cavalieri, chairman.

Life Insurance Day, January 19—R. H. Mouser, chairman.

Own Your Own Home Day, January 20—Frank Flint Porter, chairman.

Share With Others Day, January 21—Hugh L. Hagan, chairman.

Wise Spending Day—January 22—Milton Mazor, chairman.

Make a Will Day, January 23—Dan Read, chairman.

The special days embraced in the Y. M. C. A. economic creed and are briefly outlined as follows:

Work and Earn to help increase the world's goods and bring prosperity.

Make a Budget to estimate how you should dispose of your income.

Record Expenditure to see how close you come to your estimates.

Have a Bank Account to keep your money in a safe place and help you save.

Carry Life Insurance to protect your loved ones in case of your death.

Make a Will to help insure your resources going quickly to those you desire.

Own Your Own Home to secure the greatest satisfaction in your home life.

Pay Your Bills Promptly to save yourself from the tragedies of debt.

Invest in Reliable Securities to conserve your savings through wise investments.

Share With Others to fulfill your religious duty of stewardship.

The whole idea is summed up in the words "Christianize Your Dollars." The general committee, of which F. D. Moyer is chairman, will meet at luncheon at the Puritas cafe in Fifteenth street tomorrow.

Pastor Condemns
Ku Klux Methods

Condemning the Ku Klux Klan, denouncing a definite program for Oakland's future, asserting that the living wage question will loom as one of the big problems of the next few years and declaring that America must assume her share of the world's responsibilities or cease calling herself Christian, Dr. Chas. L. Kloss, pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, preached a New Year's sermon from "Forgetting the Things That Are Behind, I Press On." He said:

"Because legal procedure is faulty or marked by delay is no reason for turning government over to a group of masked men. To ostracize people because of race, color or religion is no credit to our citizenship or religion. No American needs a mask. When an attempt is made to pass judgment in secret trials, private judges are apt to attempt to satisfy private grudges."

NEW LEAGUE BEING FORMED

RICHMOND, Jan. 1.—Formation of the Richmond Initiative and Charter League will be effected at a meeting called for tomorrow night at 7:30 in Justice of the Peace John Roth's office in the Pillow building. The Freeholders' Charter League affairs will be closed up and the new organization formed to take its place. All electors and freeholders are invited to attend.

OAKLAND BANK ROBBER GOES TO SERVE HIS TERM

Confessed Bandit Waives All Extradition Rights; Ready For Prison.

RICHMOND, Jan. 1.—William T. Price, who a week ago walked into the police station and gave himself up as one of the three who held up the bank at Hurlbert, Okla., in January, 1922, left Saturday night for Oklahoma, accompanied by Sheriff George R. Gourd of Tahlequah county, Oklahoma.

Price waived extradition rights.

Gourd told the local police that good descriptions of the three men involved in the robbery had been obtained and it was the sheriff's belief that Price would ultimately have been run down.

Price's brother, Charles, who was also involved in the robbery, was killed last September in another bank robbery attempt, when another brother, George, was also slain.

The third member of the trio is still unknown, as Price has persistently refused to give his name. The police believe that he must be still alive, and Price's attitude is dictated by the desire not to bring his colleague to justice.

Price was apparently quite relieved Saturday night when he met Sheriff Gourd and learned that he would probably have to serve a prison sentence. When Price gave himself up a week ago he said his conscience forced him to act. He desired only that he be taken back to the scene of his crime and commence serving his sentence. In leaving Saturday night he said to the officers here: "Believe me, I'm going straight after this!"

If you see it in The TRIBUNE tell them so.

BOY SCOUTS NOW GAINING RAPIDLY, SAYS ALAMEDA

New Executive Shows High Spots of Development
During Past Year.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 1.—The Boy Scout organization in Alameda is rapidly gaining new members and increasing in strength, according to the annual report issued by H. M. Platz, new Scout executive.

In connection with Edward Albert, former Scout executive, Platz has prepared a general resume of Scout activities during the last twelve months. As contained in the report, Scouts in the city now number 285. About fifty of these boys affiliated with the organization during the last two months.

During the last twelve months the Court of Honor held sessions fifteen times. Six of these gatherings were held while the Scouts were in vacation camp at Bonita last summer. A total of 64 Scouts appeared before the Court of Honor to receive second class ratings. 31 for first class ratings and 136 applications were made and received for merit badges.

ANNUAL "KITE DAY" SURE.

Due to the interest shown in "kite" day last year, the new Scout executive announces the day will be an annual affair. Last year the day was observed in March and 55 kites of many novel and unique designs were entered in the contest. Plans are already underway to enter approximately 300 kites in the meet this year.

One of the many civic labors in which the Scouts participated was waging war on the Argentine ant-ing the summer months and proved of valuable assistance to the housewives in ridding the island of the ant pest. Approximately 12,000 homes were visited with ant poison during the drive and 132 Scouts participated in the campaign.

Undertakings which have won praise as pointed out by Platz was the demonstration camp which was held in Oak street from August 28 to September 2 in connection with the annual drive for funds to cover the expenses of the organization during the fiscal year 1922-1923. More than 800 interested Alamedans visited the camp and 26 Scouts remained there from one to five nights.

ROTARY CLUB THANKED.

The drive for Scout funds resulted in $161.14 being collected. A. W. Porter, chairman of the finance committee, points out that part of the success of the drive is due to the co-operation and interest shown by the members of the Alameda Rotary club.

Alameda Seascouts have accomplished praiseworthy mention, due to the fact that they unofficially appointed themselves as guardians of youthful swimmers off the Scout cabin during the summer months, which resulted in a number of lives of youngsters being saved.

Recently the Scouts took charge of the bark Lord Teapleton, lying in the Oakland harbor. For two days the boat was in entire charge of the Alameda Seascouts and leaders.

In summing up his report, the new Scout executive says that the combined work of the Scouts and Seascouts have been greatly assisted through co-operation of the Richmond Woman Is Married in Eureka

RICHMOND, Jan. 1.—Miss Hazel Bagley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bagley, 1420 Potrero avenue, and formerly employed in the telephone office here, was married to Bert Homes of Hydesville, Humboldt county, last week. News of the wedding came as a surprise to the many friends of the bride here.

The couple slipped away quietly the first part of last week and were married in Eureka. They plan to make their home in Hydesville, where the groom has a position with the highway department.

Burke Council Elects New Officers

RICHMOND, Jan. 1.—William Carey was elected president of Burke Council, Young Men's Institute, at Friday night's meeting in Pythian castle. Other officers are Rev. Father Griffin, honorary chairman; Herbert Bill, first vice-president; Bernard Clark, second vice-president; Martin Matten, recording secretary; Bernard Dolan, financial secretary; Michael Corr, treasurer; Christy Corr, marshal; Dr. E. R. Guinan, medical examiner; John Flynn, inside sentinel; John Flynn, outside sentinel; Jerry Riordan, Michael Bradley and John Fitzgerald, executive committee.

Installation of officers will be held on Thursday, January 11.

PRINTING BROKER BEATEN, BOUND BY ROPE AND ROBBED

Three San Francisco Men in Jail Accused of Maltreating John A. Anderson.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—With three men held in jail on charges of robbery in connection with the case, police are today investigating the story of John A. Anderson, a printing broker of 213 California street, who declared that he was lured by business associates to a downtown printing shop where he was severely beaten, bound with ropes and held a closely guarded prisoner all night.

Anderson was rescued after a riot had been turned into police headquarters. The three men held in jail as a result of Anderson's accusations, deny part of his story and make counter charges of an attempt to defraud them of $3500 and sail for China. They were taken into custody by the harbor police, and their names follow: Morris Saper, 627 1/2 Oak street, job printer at 389 Commercial street.

T. L. Hendricks, Hotel Larnie.

George Goldsmith, employed by the Levi-Strauss company; brother-in-law of Hendricks.

While Anderson was being held prisoner in the print shop, according to police, his distraught wife spent the night in a taxicab searching for him.

Shortly after six o'clock yesterday morning, Patrolman William Quinlan, tracing a man's call for help, located Anderson on the roof of an adjoining printing shop. Quinlan sent in a riot call when Anderson shouted that a band of men had held him up and were still in the building.

Reserves from the harbor police station surrounded the building and captured Saper, who was found battling with the flames from an overturned oil stove, which Anderson declares had been upset during his struggle to escape. Anderson's forehead was badly cut and behind his ear was a deep cut where he alleges he had been kicked. There was a large lump on the back of his head and his right hand was bruised.

According to Anderson's story to the police he was inveigled into the Commercial street printing house by Hendricks, while Saper, who had been secreted there, pounced on his back and bore him to the floor. He said that the pair rifled his pockets of about $100 after tying him to chair. Next, he survived, telling him they had discovered he was about to leave the country owing them $3500 and insisted that he must sign an agreement to turn over all his outstanding accounts to Saper & Hendricks, also his automobile and furniture and induce his father to sign certain deeds to secure his own agreement.

Anderson fixed the hour of his arrival at the shop around about 10 o'clock Saturday night.

Goldsmith arrived at the place shortly afterward, according to the broker's story, and was told he was to act as one of the guards because they meant to hold Anderson until Tuesday morning if necessary to compel him to sign the papers. Anderson says he was offered partnership in the firm, if a signed.

Women Plan Party For Sunday School

TURLOCK, Jan. 1.—Mesdames J. P. Heil, W. Allison, Hubbard, L. J. Erickson and Will Hopp were hostesses to the Sunday school class of the Methodist church. The delightful party was held in the church parlor and everyone enjoyed a good time.

TWO MEN SHOT DURING RAID ON CELEBRATORS

LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 1.—Two men were shot, a woman was injured, and a barrage of chairs, glassware, plates, knives and forks were hurled promiscuously in a riot which occurred at the fashionable hotel Chase in the West End section of the city early today when guests in the main dining hall objected to the intrusion of prohibition enforcement agents and a squad of policemen who were searching for liquor.

Gus O. Nations, chief federal dry law officer in St. Louis, with a half dozen agents and a squad of police, entered the hotel. Observing liquor being served at one of the tables, an officer attempted to place one of the guests under arrest. Then some one threw a chair, excitement followed and a shot was fired. Witnesses said they were unable to tell who fired the shot. Women became hysterical and were directed at the officers, who retreated and left the hotel. Guests from nearby hotels, hearing of the turmoil, hurried to the Chase, which is the most fashionable in the city, and soon several hundred persons were gathered about the entrance awaiting developments.

Women Are Invited To Sewing Class

Eastbay women who desire to be helped with their sewing have been invited to attend the dress-making class at Manzanita school, Twenty-sixth avenue and East Twenty-seventh street, which opens for the new year session Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The millinery class of the school will hold its meetings on Monday of each week, beginning January 8.

MOVIES UNDER NEW CENSORSHIP

New censorship regulations are to be enforced in New South Wales motion picture theaters for "the protection of the public morals," the authorities have announced.

In the future, no film may be exhibited which represents or includes scenes, including titles or sub-titles, suggestive of immorality or indecency, successful crime, executions, murders, brutality, or other acts of lawlessness.

Moreover, it is required that the change the air in the theater completely at least eight times an hour during the time the public is inside, the regulations provide.

W. C. T. U. Will Hold State Convention

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of California will hold an important two-day session in the state headquarters, 2 City Hall avenue, San Francisco, beginning Wednesday. The quarterly executive meeting will be presided over by Mrs. Addie Garwood, vice of Berkeley, state president. It will summon state officers, presidents in twenty-five counties and superintendents of thirty-eight departments of work carried on by the organization to the conference.

Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edson, executive secretary of the state industrial welfare commission, and John C. Williams will be among the speakers. Among the subjects which will be discussed are the minimum wage for women, narcotic control and the state industrial farm for women, near Sonoma.

New Year's Eve Parties Held in Homes

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Paxton Howard was the scene of a merry New Year party last evening when Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gilchrist were hosts to a number of the younger married set and beaux and belles.

In Alameda the Fritz Henkhaus opened their home in Grand street and Central avenue for an enjoyable affair and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis Hill of Hawthorne street kept open house to half a hundred guests at a musicale.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Michels, who postponed their home party this year entertained at Sequoyah Country club instead.

The Bernard Ransome home at Mt. Diablo was opened for a New Year's eve party. Their daughter, Miss Martha Ransome, is spending the holidays at the home of her aunt, Mrs. William Bull Pringle, in New York. Miss Virginia Pringle and Miss Ransome are attending girls' school in the eastern metropolis and Mrs. Pringle will remain east during their study months.

Among the merry makers at the Charming Country club last evening were the Donald Lamonts, Earl Breck, Herriott Small, Donald Walsh, Ernest Porters, Harry Manville Wrights, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Duke and Miss Dorothy Duke, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paul Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. John Knox, Mr. and Mrs. Harry East Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Marion Walsh and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Adams and scores of others.

ing were the Donald Lamonts, Earl Breck, Herriott Small, Donald Walsh, Ernest Porters, Harry Manville Wrights, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Duke and Miss Dorothy Duke, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paul Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. John Knox, Mr. and Mrs. Harry East Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Marion Walsh and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Adams and scores of others.

Miss Vivian Heey has sent out cards for a bridge party to be given January 20 at her home in compliance to Miss Marjorie Smith.

Miss Smith is the fiancée of Howell Lovell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lovell of Piedmont.

WEDDING ON SATURDAY EVENING

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ford are on their honeymoon, their destination kept secret from friends. Their marriage took place Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride in Hearst avenue. Mrs. Ford is the daughter of Mrs. George Smythe of Berkeley. Rev. Edward Bennett, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, read the service before an improvised altar arranged in orchids, in lavender and pink hues, many candles shedding their glow over the same.

Mrs. Walter Alvarez of San Francisco, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore orchid-toned canton crepe and carried purple pansies. Little Bernice Alvarez, the flower girl, was in pale pink tulle and carried a gilded basket filled with Irish Elegance roses.

Canton crepe elaborated in seed pearls with which she wore a court train of real lace which was worn at the wedding of the bridegroom's mother. The bride veil of tulle was fastened to the coiffure with a cap of the same pattern of lace. The bride bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley was tied with lacy knots of satin ribbons and knotted tulle.

Mrs. George Smythe gave her daughter into the keeping of the bridegroom. Geoffrey Waterlow Ford was best man for his brother. The new home of the couple will be near Merced upon a large ranch in that vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rolier have sent out invitations for the evening of January 13, when they will entertain at the Home Club in Fourth Avenue Heights. The guest list will include several scores of the younger set and their escorts.

Mrs. Joseph Errington and her daughter, Miss Bernice Errington, who have been traveling in Canada for six months, are making their headquarters at the Hotel White-cotton in Berkeley, where they will remain until the graduation of Miss Clara Errington from the University of California in June.

In Sacramento the marriage of Miss Muriel Storms, a former Berkeley girl, and Jack Butler was a social event of December 27 at the S. S. Butler home in that city. Bishop William Hall Moreland officiated in the presence of one hundred guests.

Among those who motored up for the wedding were Professor and Mrs. Chaucer Wells, Professor and Mrs. Herbert I. Priestley, of the University of California, and Mrs. W. H. Storms, mother of the bride.

Both Butler and his bride have many friends in college circles.

CORRECT GOWN GIVES ILLUSION OF THINNESS

"I have been on a diet. You look about 20 pounds thinner."

"Oh, you darling! How I love people who think I am getting thinner. You know it is the trial of my life to be so fat."

"But really, you look so trim and much smaller. I'm not flattering you; I mean it."

"Well, I am glad of that, surely. No, I haven't been dieting, but I have been, taking more exercise. I play golf most every good day now, and I love the game."

"So that's it? I knew you were decidedly changed, and I thought you had been dieting."

"But you know, the scales show that I have lost only five pounds since I took up exercise. What had puzzled your eye is this dress. The long lines and drapes in the right place give me a thinner look, so I hope."

"Well, it is a wonderful gown. I have been admiring it a lot since you came up."

"I am fond of it myself. I got it and my golf togs, too, at Cherry's at 515 Thirteenth street. They seem to have that what they will allow the best of it is that they will allow one to make monthly payments until the garments are paid for."

Cherry's store for men is at 528 Thirteenth street.—Advertisement.

Suspect Held For Embezzlement

OROVILLE, Jan. 1.—Jack Fuller, charged with embezzlement, was held to answer to the superior court by justice of the peace J. V. Parks, following a preliminary hearing Friday. Assistant District Attorney George E. Gardner said the case would be taken up immediately after the court convenes after the holiday vacation and a quick disposition would be sought. Fuller is alleged to have stolen a car belonging to M. L. Openshaw from the Alva Hatch agency, where Fuller was employed as salesman. He was brought back to Oroville from Calaveras by Constable Harvey Payton a few days ago. Witnesses against Fuller at the preliminary hearing were Fred G. Hatch and M. L. Openshaw.

Turlock Report Says 1922 Business Good

TURLOCK, Jan. 1.—A review of the commerce of the Turlock city during the past year shows that the year of 1922 held its own from a business point of view. Away back at the commencement everything promised a bumper season for both growers and traders, and as month succeeded month that possibility developed in intensity. But late rains retarded planting, and when the crops eventually matured the markets fell and the rail roads failed to handle all the produce. There was apparently sufficient in reserve to allow of the business of the district being carried on to a greater extent than in the preceding year, according to report increases over last year in the volume of business, while others say that with them business was about the same.

The mother love of the ape is unparalleled in the animal world. The United States public debt was reduced $175,000,000 during 1922.

Contractor Arrested On Wife's Charge

WOODLAND, Jan. 1.—Lawrence W. Hughes, employed here for a year or more on the Glide ranch, was arrested yesterday on a warrant from Vigoula, Wis., charging him with failure to provide for his wife and two children. Hughes waived extradition and will return to Wisconsin. He alleges that he left his wife a year ago, charging that his home life was unbearable. He alleges that he wrote to his wife before Christmas promising to return if she would agree to eliminate "nagging" from their domestic life. He gave her his address and that is how the officers here located him for arrest and return. Hughes is a road contractor, well known in Yolo county.

Riverbank Rail Man Returns With Bride

RIVERBANK, Jan. 1.—Jesse Stoval, chief clerk of the Santa Fe, returned with a bride. During his long absence he led Miss Lammie Davis of Ft. Worth, Texas, to the altar. The Rev. George Meis officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Stoval spent their honeymoon at southern points. They have just arrived and already a number of social events are being planned for the pretty bride.

And Big Values in Rugs and Draperies

Folks, we consider this one of the most fortunate purchases of stamped Art Goods that our buyer has ever made. Every article is, of course, of the high Standard "ROYAL SOCIETY" qualities, and if they were marked at prices based upon their production at the present price of materials, THEY WOULD ACTUALLY HAVE TO BE MARKED AT FOUR TIMES THESE SALE PRICES. All are new, perfect goods, never before placed on sale, and every one of our Art Department customers will realize and appreciate the Bargains. See our other three pages. All these items on third floor. WHITTHORNE & SWAN.

Lions Will Install Officers Wednesday

The annual election and installation of officers will be held at the next meeting of the Lions Club at the Hotel Oakland Wednesday. The following members have been nominated for officers:

President—Morris Mazon and William E. Strel.

Vice-president—Charles Davis and Oliver Kehlman.

Treasurer—Francis Wood.

Secretary—Francis Woodward.

Directors, two to be elected—Walter E. Corder, Charles Howard, Roy Milligan and Frank Warren.

Sales Increase to Be Hamman's Topic

"Patronage by the Citizens of Oakland with Our Local Merchants" will be the subject of the talk of Leroy K. Hamman at the first luncheon of the Merchants' Exchange for 1923 at the Hotel Oakland tomorrow. He will show to the assemblage the best methods for increasing retail sales, illustrating with charts the percentage of business done in the past year.

H. H. Spiro, past president of the exchange, will preside.

Family Washing Service

All the washing; most of the ironing only a few lighter pieces for you to finish

Wouldn't you like to be able to finish up all your week's washing—washing, ironing, everything—in just two or three hours?

Here's a service that enables you to do just that. You can send your entire bundle.

Everything is daintily washed. All the flat work, like table-cloths, and bed linen, is nicely ironed. Other pieces, such as bath towels, underwear and hosiery, are fluffed just right so they are ready to use. The remaining pieces we send home dry (those requiring starch are starched)—the only work left for you is the ironing of these lighter things—something you can easily do in a short two or three hours.

Try "EXCELSIOR FAMILY WASH SERVICE" for your next washing. A phone call will bring our representative.

Can You Title This Unnamed Cartoon?

Please observe these rules carefully in competing for the title prize. Violation of any of these conditions will disqualify your entry.

Answer must be written on post-cards. No entries in envelopes will be received.

Titles must be written on the long way of the card. That is, from left to right, in the same direction as the address on the opposite side.

Answers must be mailed. No cards will be received in person at The TRIBUNE office. This rule is made necessary in the event of two winning titles coming for the same cartoon, when the prior postmark must be the determining factor.

Titles must be addressed to Title Editor, OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

Titles must not exceed twelve words in length. They must reach The OAKLAND TRIBUNE by Thursday night following the Monday the picture is published.

One person may send in as many titles as he wishes, but only two on one postcard.

Postcards must bear only the title and the name and address and no message whatsoever.

A $10 prize will be awarded to the winner each week.

Winners will be announced each Sunday.

Row Over Liquor Ends in Murder

VONKERS, N. Y., Jan. 1.—Stephen Piramine was shot and killed yesterday in a quarrel over 18 cases of liquor, alleged to have been brought to the city in a United States army truck. Two men were arrested, charged with homicide, and five others, among them Joseph Laker, a unformed soldier from Fort Hamilton, were held as material witnesses. The army truck has been seized.

The two held on homicide charges are James and Salvador Castaldo, proprietor of the inn in which the quarrel is reported to have taken place.

Advertising Club To Install Officers

The Oakland Advertising club will install new officers tomorrow with Tom Colburn, president, and the new business department of the Pacific Gas and Electric company as president; Max Horwinski, vice-president; George Cummings, treasurer; Woodson Ross, secretary.

The board of directors, in addition to the officers, are as follows: Archie Thomas, Ralph M. Seely, Larry E. Lund, Fred L. Tomaschke, W. H. Pinkerton and George W. Yost.

In addition to the installation of officers H. C. Capwell, Rabbi Rudolph Coffee and Captain C. A. Duffie will deliver ten-minute talks entitled "My Message For 1923."

Funds Needed For Near East Relief

An appeal on behalf of 100,000 orphans whom overseas American relief workers are mothering and used by the Northern California Near East Relief, the Oakland member of which is A. S. Laven-

Funds are desperately needed, says the committee, for food supplies to fill the void left by recent heavy drains on orphan food stocks in temporarily relieving the wants of hordes of refugee women and children fleeing from the Kemalists in Smyrna, Thrace and Anatolia.

Mrs. Jeannette W. Emrich of Berkeley stated recently that upon her visit to a relief station in Trans-Caucasia one evening last fall there were supplies on hand to give each child for supper only six or seven raisins and three and one-half ounces of bread. This ration has since been reduced. Contributions may be sent through Near East Relief, 131 Mills building, San Francisco.

A PLAY OF '49.

There is an opportunity for a Central California city to render service in keeping an important and colorful part of the State's history before its citizens in the idea of a Play of '49. At the same time the city which seizes upon this chance, and in a way to make the pageant a serious and noteworthy effort, will attract a wide attention to itself and environs.

An outdoor play of the days of '49 could be made one of the annual events in California life. It would compare in interest with the Mission Play of San Gabriel, would draw attention to the mining days and the mining lauds and would fit with particular timeliness into the program for the furtherment of the claims of this part of the state before the country.

Oakland would like to put on such a play, and yet might wait first to see if Sacramento did not wish the honor. The city which staged the "Days of '49" would seem to have the logical precedence. The mining country is behind Sacramento. The same may be said of Stockton. Of course, if the pageant could be put on in the Mother Lode it would have all the advantages of the genuine setting.

In THE TRIBUNE magazine section yesterday Mira Abbott MacLay, star of the Mission Play of San Gabriel, now a resident of Oakland, proposes a '49er play and says there is material in such a production to attract the attention of the world. The first requisite is a worthy vehicle, a play which will bring in the color and the characters, which will be a true picture and will carry an impressive and typical story. To that end it is suggested some city would do well to offer a prize that the writers of the state may compete and that this prize be made a large one. The city which offers this prize will be the logical one in which to produce the play. Perhaps several cities will join in the enterprise and produce the pageant in the Mother Lode as a means of helping that section in its plans for a highway.

Whatever comes of the suggestion, there is no disputing the fact a great play, the one which will picture the romance and adventure of the days of gold, is waiting to be written. Who will write it and where will it be played?

MT. DIABLO PARK.

Californians who have at heart the movement for the presentation of this state's resources and beauties to the world will consider the proposal to complete the state park at Mt. Diablo an opportunity of unusual promise. Diablo is an asset to the state. Not only does it offer an eminence from which the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, the ridges of foothills, and even the ocean, may be seen, it has on its sides an immense acreage of natural park land.

The movement to make a playground of Mt. Diablo, to preserve its beauties for the state and the future, was not been started too soon. The state has acted toward the acquisition of the 4000 acres on Diablo by authorizing the Mount Diablo Park Commission to arrange the purchase. What is needed is support of the plan in the coming session of the Legislature.

At the rate the Eastbay section and Contra Costa county are growing, Mt. Diablo some day will be in the center of a densely populated district. The recreation spots within easy reach of the cities will become fewer with the years and as they become scarce so will they be acquired by private interests. Diablo should belong to the state. It should be a park, now and for always.

Secretary Hughes suggests an independent American commission to resolve the European chaos into orderliness. That such commission should be composed of "men competent in financial affairs," suggests that they themselves should be solid financially, and able to command colossal funds. And that would reach the root of the whole matter. It is all, or mostly, trouble that financing would settle, and that is why all nations turn to this, and some of them are assuming an accusatory attitude.

It is the envy of the well-to-do who feel that the rows and poverty of others are not necessarily his. However, this is an extreme and unusual case, and it may be that something should be done.

SHIPPING BILL AGAIN.

With the end of the holiday recess the shipping bill will move again to first place in Congressional consideration. Despite the attempted obstruction of legislators who call themselves progressives, this important move for national progress is moving toward enactment. There is a fair prospect now the bill will be passed by the Senate substantially in its original form and that the House will recede from the amendments which crippled its chances for effectiveness.

So far the opposition has not advanced a constructive argument. It has been content to filibuster and employ all of the tactics of obstruction. If those Senators who stood upon the platform of 1920 and returned pledges to their constituents maintain their present attitude, it is more than likely they will hear from the folks "back home." It will prove costly to more than one, this game of obstruction.

The shipping bill opens the way to foreign markets. It helps the farmer directly and in large measure. Before American crops can be exported in quantity there must be more carriers on the seas operating with full cargoes going and coming. Encouragement to American shipping will stimulate American trade and the result will be lower rates for American farm produce. It has been said the bill extends the American railroad and highway systems to the foreign countries which consume our products.

The two main objects of the bill are the maintenance and development of American commerce and the maintenance of an indispensable means of national defense. The only arguments advanced against it, if they can be called such, are directed at the farmers of the Middle West and upon the false premises that these men, far removed from the seacoast, are not interested in American shipping.

The whole country will watch the vote in the Senate upon this most important bill.

A COMMUNITY TREE.

As cities grow men deplore the passing of the neighborly town meeting, the picnics to which everyone was invited and the other apparent evidences of community consciousness. There is no longer a tradition, it is said—the good old days are gone.

The trouble is, one never recognizes a tradition in the forming. The boys and girls at Dixon, for instance, do not know that in a dozen years, in a score, and until they are old, they will remember the festival that place held this Christmas. When Dixon is a large city some of them, influential men of affairs by then, will harken back to the close of 1922 and ask, what has become of the old tradition, the folk-enjoyment of the holiday?

Dixon's first community Christmas tree was unique. The citizens of the place met in front of the postoffice in the evening and stood around a live tree which had been decorated. Then the lights went on and there was singing, prayer and an address. Santa Claus rode up in a large car and five hundred gifts were distributed. There was enough to go around and every boy and girl in the city was made happy. Then the singers went around the town sending up carols to the stars which lighted a frost clear night.

Dixon has planted a number of Christmas trees around town. The citizens wish to make sure that the march of progress will not mean the removal of the center for festivities. So genuine was the response to the idea the community observance will be made an annual one. What has become of the traditional way of celebrating Christmas? Dixon and many other California cities know it is still in the hearts of men and women.

Banditry has come to be so common that more serious punishment is recognized to be necessary to check it. Even when murder results there has not been punishment commensurate with the heinousness involved. But the Louisiana authorities are awaking to the necessity of it. Six men, sentenced to death for murder committed in a holdup in which they were concerned, have been sentenced a second time—notwithstanding the most strenuous efforts to avert the extreme penalty. There is a palpable feeling in Louisiana, at least, that banditry should be stopped.

FRENCH SUPPRESSION OF NEWS.

The French press evidently is not so free as Clemenceau's departure from America. This is not because M. Clemenceau is unimportant but because the Poincare government, which exercises an immense control of the press, fears that he may turn out to be altogether too important.

France is unfortunate in her newspapers. There is probably no advanced country in the world where news is considered of such slight value as compared with political opinion. With few exceptions the Paris press is always playing some party's game in the news columns, even to the point of downright suppression of all news.

The isolation of the French press has resulted from this intense journalistic partisanship. It has been a very serious thing for Europe. The French people suffer in time of peace from a censorship that differs only in slight degree from the censorship of the war.—New York World.

THE SONG OF THE SAILOR.
I sing the joyful song
Of him who has been kalsomining
all day long,
And not on walls alone,
On ceiling high,
While strange tints dye
His stiff and aching elbows to the bone.

On the stepladder's top
He sits and sadly sees the darned stuff splash and drop
In gouts upon the floor,
And feels it glide
With slickery slide
All up his sleeves, or down, like half-chilled gore.

There's no relief in sight,
Naught will improve his sad and sorry plight,
His grievous situation,
Unless some one can stage
A shift from earliest age,
And just repeal the law of gravitation.

"Nectar of New Wine."
If New Year's dreams were true, and Palestine
Should lay before mine eyes; and
The Divine
Should take me by the hand, and,
there, incline
My head upon his breast, and give me rest
Which to obtain, I must shake off this bond
Of mortal clay; and rise to heights beyond
Into the vale of Paradise; where fond Loved ones have gone to rest, in righteousness.

O should my dream come true, of
New Year's day—
And I could gleam to you a cheerful ray,
A smile or helpful word; and thus repay
Your kindnesses, while pressed against his breast
Of purity; and hear him gently say:
"Come unto me, ye weary heart;
delay
Ye not, but come, and hasten, that ye may Become the Savior's Guest, among the blest."

I gazed upon the Fig tree and the Vine,
On pastures spotted with contented
Kine,
And sipped the sparkling nectar of New Wine;
I heard the Angels sing their carols ring
Into this glad and tuneful heart of mine;
I saw the vaulted verdure intertwine
With Cedar trees, the Live Oak and the Pine—God breathed on ev'rything, the breath of Spring.

And as I mused upon that brilliant place
Where glistened Gold and Diamonds on white lace
I clasped the hands of friends of ev'ry Race
In whom there were no guile;
where none defile—
But, as I sought, the festoonings, to trace,
The scene dissolved into a throne of Grace,
To seal the map of Canaan on the face
Of loving friends, who wore a Christmas smile.

DON MARQUIS.

Quiet Day for a Maine Yankee.
It isn't often that a man 76 years old wins a prize for the best costumed man at a masquerade ball.
Uncle Dan O'Brien, as he is popularly known, a citizen of fair Vernon, chopped wood all day last Saturday. As he was strolling home in the twilight he happened to think that Neighbor Bridges was going to have a dance that night in Oak Hall. So after supper Uncle Dan dons his costume and walks down to the hall, a distance of nearly three miles. He got the prize for the best costumed man, danced all the square dances and did some clogging on the side. The prize was certainly well earned and was the climax of a perfect day for Uncle Dan.—Portland (Me.)

What's in a Name?
An English motorist was stopped by a policeman on account of poor lights.
"I'll have to take your name,

"John Smith," was the reply.
"Don't try that on me, sir," warned the man in blue. "I want your proper name and address."
"Then if you must have it, it's William Shakespeare Stratford-on-Avon."
"Thank you, sir," said the policeman, jotting it down. "Sorry to have troubled you."
"Don't mention it," said the motorist, driving on.—Boston Tran-

EXCERPTS from the NATIONAL PRESS

Christian Science Monitor: "A lecturer, recently, when discussing the possibility of life on other planets, said that, since Venus is so similar to the earth in many respects, such may be the case there, but that the evidence is strong-ly against it being so on Mars. All such statements, however, are pre-dicted upon the premise that the conditions on the earth are neces-sary to the well-being of living or-ganisms. This is by no means proven, for who can say there may not be people on some other planet taking their daily swims in molten metal or liquid oxygen, as the case may be, and speculating as to whether there is life upon the earth?"

Deseret News: "Secretary of Labor Davis, in an address at Sharon, Pa., Dec. 24, criticized the country's education system. He said: 'Our pursuit of the theoret-ical has led to the belief that work with the hands is menial, some-thing disagreeable and something to be avoided.' According to Mr. Davis the 'white collar' occupations are overcrowded while there is a lack of skilled craftsmen, artisans, and educated men for farm and mill and factory."

Brooklyn Eagle: "To everybody interested in the past of our na-tional merchant marine the saving of the square-rigger, Glory of the Seas by a telegram from Boston shipping men, when she was on her way from Seattle to be beached and burned for junk, has real drama. The vessel, said to be the last of the 'clipper' ships, will be towed to the Hub and moored as a monu-ment in Boston Harbor. She was built there in 1869 by Donald M. Kay. She made fast trips to San Francisco and fast trips to Liver-pool."

New York Sun: "A combination of scientific interests and the ener-getic enthusiasm of a great hunter will end probably by taking the mystery out of Africa. It was Carl Akeley who recently dissipated the tradition of the gorilla's extreme ferociousness, and his explorations and hunting trips put him in the position of an expert on African wild life. Also recently Darwinists have taken a renewed interest in the apes, probably because of the challenging of their beliefs by churchmen and others. And the experiments in monkey gland graft-ing have turned many eyes toward the principal source of glands."

Oregonian: "The custom of maids and swains to confer them-selves upon each other as holiday matrimonial presents, and the ad-ditional incidence of approach of a legislative session remind us that notwithstanding much discussion and some near-disgrace, Oregon marriage laws are still driving many couples to Vancouver for their marriage licenses. The Chris-tian record of such cases ran high again."

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

Only yesterday we read of the death of the last survivor of the Custer massacre. We have read the same story so often that we know it by heart. Now it is said that the original Richardson men in California are multiplying by the hundreds until they will soon out-number all the registered Republi-cans and most of the Democrats.—Watsonville Record.

It is reported that when Mrs. Phillips, the "hammer" murderess, made her escape from the Los Angeles jail, she left behind a book, "The Ethics of Christianity," a can of sardines, a bottle of pickles and several jars of cold cream. Truly a remarkable assortment.—Sacramento Union.

The great problem confronting the Harding administration is how to mix in European affairs and give that distressed country some modicum of relief without recog-nizing the League of Nations, or assuming any responsibility for what we say or do. It's some prob-lem.—Red Bluff News.

The steamer Stockton City, after making her usual stop at Point Arena with freight, made a special trip to the wrecked steamship Or-teric and took off cables and a quantity of material for F. W. Warren of Point Arena, who is salvag-ing the wreck, having entered into a contract with the ship agents.—Ulrich Press.

The postoffice has installed speed regulators on nearly 5000 of its trucks. These gear down the ma-chines to keep them within local speed ordinances. Eventually, to curb speed maniacs, this may have to be done to all autos before they leave the factory.—Stockton Rec-ord.

It is said that Southern Califor-nia orange growers have applied to Lloyd's for insurance of their crops against damage by frost. This came out of the mouth of a man who lost from that cause below the Tehachapi last winter ran up into the millions of dollars.—Sacka-mento Bee.

No matter how often Santa gets his whiskers burned off when some careless person knocks a candle over and burns the house down, he always comes up next year with the usual crop of the usual color.—Redding Searchlight.

A cartoon that would picture the situation graphically would show Europe sinking for the third and last time, and Uncle Sam rushing to the rescue in the fast power-boat, Ready Financial Help.—Long Beach Press.

Under red light abatement pro-ceedings, Lafayette park property near El Cerrito, in the western sec-tion of the county, owned by I. M. Perrin, was closed for one year by Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie on Wednesday.—Martinez Gazette.

Henry Ford makes $284,026.41 a day. We are glad we are not Henry. We never could have nerve enough to take a day off.—Pitts-burgh Courier.

R. G. Einfall of Gilroy has ac-cepted the position of city editor of the Pajaronian, left vacant by the death of Will F. Mackinney, and will enter upon his duties Mon-day.—Watsonville Pajaronian.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

NEW YEAR'S DAY.
Here's the day when I am fine,
Day when strength of will is mine,
Here's the day I put aside
Vice for virtue glorified;
Here's the day when I renew
Every pledge that's good and true,
Weed the garden of my past—
But somehow it doesn't last.

Here's the day I start afresh
Clambering out of habit's mesh;
Now I put my pipes away
Never more to smoke, I say,
Nevertheless, for it is vain,
Shall I utter speech profane;
All my faults away I've cast—
But somehow it doesn't last.

Here's the day I'm free from sin,
Clean without and clean within,
Big of heart and broad of mind,
Never mean and always kind;
Free from malice, free from shame,
All that's lovable, I am.
Honest stuff and color-fast—
But somehow it doesn't last.

Meet me on this happy day,
Not a bitter word I'll say,
You shall see a smiling face,
Be received with courtesy grace,
And I'll gladly prove to you
That I know what I should do;
But before the month is o'er
I shall be myself once more.
